

Index

- Action, 7, 22
- African-Americans, 172–173, 178, 184
- Allies, 213–218
- Artifact Day, 106
- Artifacts, 187–188
  - analysis, 102–107
- Attention, 57
- Authentic instruction, 204
- Authentic pedagogy, 138
- Authenticity, 30
- Avatar, 64, 81

- Barker, Bill, 8
- Bates, Daisy, 154
  - historic character presentation, 160–162
- Beliefs, 49
- Betsy Costner historic character presentation, 161–163
- Big picture, 30
- Building character
  - childhood memories, 171–173
  - identifying character, 173–177
  - personal side of character portrayal, 182–185
  - portraying historical figures, 178–181
  - process, 181–182

- C3 Framework, 3, 5
- Captions, 61
- Captive audiences, 138
- Caricature, 61
- Caucasian-American, 173, 184
- Character, 20–21, 139, 142
  - composite, 173
  - interpreter, 52
  - portrayal, 103, 182–185

- Character interpretation (see also Historical character portrayal), 11–16
  - action, 22
  - clarifying process, 16
  - in classroom, 51
  - crafting story, 22–24
  - decisions in, 46–48
  - effective set-up and wrap-up, 18
  - good character interpretation, 19–20
  - humanizes difficult and controversial issues and events, 15–16
  - kids taking on characters, 18–25
  - limitations, 16–18
  - making story real, 24–25
  - problem, 22
  - resolution, 22
  - setting, 21–22
  - setting up performance, 24
  - story structure, 20
- Characterization, 57–60
- Childhood memories, 171–173
- Citizenship, 83–84
- Civil War, 174, 178
- Civil War Contraband, 174–176
- Classroom (see also History in classroom)
  - challenge for educators, 204
  - Declaration of Independence, 208
  - editing, 210
  - model for, 139–151
  - parental support, 210
  - project process, 210
  - and public history, 137–139
  - slide show presentation, 205

- Smithsonian Institute, 206
  - students, 203–204
  - websites using, 209
- Colonial ghost stories, 109
- Colonial historical interpretation, 93
- Colonial Williamsburg Foundation (CWF), 135
- Columbus Trial, 113
- Composite character, 173
- Comprehensiveness, 40
- Confederate flag, 57
- Connections making
  - curriculum, 226–228
  - Exhibit Analysis Guide, 223
  - Grade 6 Roman Exhibit Project, 215
  - growing our team, 213–226
  - Lennox’s Kindergarten Exhibit, 228
  - museum-integrated learning, 212–213
  - professional learning, 212
  - reflection, 232–234
  - sharing our work, 228–232
  - working with administrators, 232
- Content, 7, 139, 141–142
- Contextualist, 18
- Costume, 122–123
- Costumed interpretation, 101–102
- Crafting story, 22–24
- Creativity, 39–40
- Cross-curricular connections, 72–76
- Cultural storytelling, 84–85

- Debriefing, 60–61
- Devil’s Arithmetic, The*, 227
- Digital
  - immigrants, 4
  - media, 5–6
  - native, 4, 205
  - storytelling, 138
- Disciplined inquiry, 139
- Discovery, 32
- Distortion, 61

- Documentary research, 189
- Dramatis personae, 173

- Economics, 76–77
- Editing, 210
- Effective living history presentations
  - student short ghost stories and short stories, 109–111
  - teacher/professionally modeled options, 107–109
- Elementary and Secondary Education Act (1965), 1
- Engagement, 64–66
  - foundations for creating, 66–71
  - student, 5–9, 132
- Environmentalism, 61
- Exaggeration, 61
- Experiential learning, 64, 82, 136–137
- Exploration, 32, 35

- Feldman Approach, 220–221
- First-person
  - character interpretation, 49
  - characterization, 45–46
  - interpretation, 15, 101–102, 182
- Formalist Theatre, A*, 182
- “Four Freedoms” document, 59

- Good character interpretation, 19–20
- Grading, 123–129

- Historical “stuff”, 190
- Historical accuracy, 54–55
- Historical character
  - interpretation, 45, 101–102
  - interpreters, 148
- Historical character portrayal (see also Character interpretation)
  - American civil rights, 156
  - artifact analysis, 103–107
  - building capacity for student performances, 103
  - creating environment, 102–103

- effective living history
  - presentations, 107–111
- event, 155
- grading vs. learning, 123–129
- historical person in history, 154
- historical thinking in practice, 107
- impact, 106–107
- introductory story, 105
- living history, 101–102
- presentation, 158–169
- presenting for peers, 158
- professional performance, 111
- prompt for students, 106
- Sheila Arnold as Zora Neale Hurston, 157
- student products, 111–123
- Historical interpretation, 6, 83–84
  - finding in voice, 135–137
  - material culture studies in, 198–200
- Historical portrayals, 163
  - interpretation, 143
- Historical presentism, 58
- Historical research, 181
- Historical thinking in practice, 107
  - strategies reference form, 108
- History in classroom (see also Classroom), 100, 154
  - anticipate controversy, 48–50
  - characterization, 57–60
  - debriefing, 60–61
  - decisions in character interpretation, 46–48
  - first-person characterization, 45–46
  - interpreting historical figures, 43–45
  - Jamison, Mae C., 55
  - lesson extension, 61–62
  - Roosevelt, Theodore, 50
  - setting stage, 54–57
- Humor, 61
- Individual’s attitude, 49
- Individualized Education Programs, 111–113
- Innovation, 32, 37–38
- Innovative teaching method
  - connections to economics and personal financial literacy, 76–77
  - creating cross-curricular connections, 72–76
  - engagement, 64–66
  - foundations for creating engagement, 66–71
  - Moffat, 64, 66
  - parents jump on board, 78–80
  - sharing vision, 80–82
  - state order, 68
  - zipping up backpack beyond classroom, 82
- Inquiry, 5–9
  - inquiry-based learning, 103
  - model, 3–4
- Intellectual quality, 138
- Intent, 7
- Interdisciplinary connections, 194
- Interpretation, 132
- Jamestown, 179–180
- Jamison, Mae C., 55
- Jefferson, Thomas, 4
- K-12 education, 1
- Knowledge, 174
  - symbolic, 139
  - visual, 139
- Language, 57
- Large group student opportunities, 113–117
- Leaders, 134
- Learning, 31–32, 123–129, 222–226
- Lesson extension, 61–62
- Library of Congress (LOC), 205–206
- Living history (see Historical character—interpretation)
- Material culture studies, 188, 190–198
  - “biography” of artifact, 191–192

- and documentary research, 189
- in historical interpretation, 198–200
- meaning of object, 192–198
- “thingness”, 191
- Media literacy, 2
- Media performance tips, 92–93
- Mood, 167–169
- Motivating students, 83–85
  - colonial day lesson/historical interpretation choices, 86
  - elements and characteristics of native American folktales and creation stories, 89
  - getting started in classroom, 87–92
  - historical character interpretation story map, 90
  - involving others, 93–97
  - media performance tips, 92–93
  - “wishes and stars” worksheet, 88
- Movement, 166–167
- Multiple perspectives, 49
- Museums
  - to enhancing performance pedagogy, 219–220
  - museum-integrated learning, 212–213
  - strategies in classroom, 221–222
- Narrative approach, 29–30
- Narrative story, 29, 34
- National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), 55, 69
- National Archives (NARA), 206–209
- National Assessment of Education Progress (NAEP), 5
- National Association for Interpretation (NAI), 137
- Native American folktales, 85
- No Child Left Behind Act (NCLB Act), 1
- Noncaptive audience, 137–138
- Object-based learning, 212–218
- #ObserveMe, 218–219
- Oklahoma
  - academic standards, 84–85
  - social studies standards in, 92
- Oregon Trail, 116
- Parental support, 210
- Partner/pairing opportunities, 117–122
- Pedagogical studies, 132
- Pedagogy, 139, 141
- Performance pedagogy, 7, 132, 140, 219–220
  - chart, 144
- Personal approach, 30
- Personal financial literacy, 76–77
- Perspective, 49
  - multiple, 49, 118
- Point of view, 49
- Political cartoon, 61
- Postpresentation contextualist, 18
- Practice, 91
- PreK-Adult historic site interpretation, 132
- Presentation, 36, 160–169
  - Betsy Costner historic character presentation, 161
  - Daisy Bates historic character presentation, 160
  - idea for reaching audience, 163–165
  - mood, 167–169
  - movement, 166–167
- Presentism, 50
- Primary sources, 55, 204–205
- Problem in character interpretation, 22
- Professional performance, 111
- Professionalism, 39–40
- Project-based learning, 37–38
- Protection papers, 177
- Public history, 137–139
- Resolution, 22
- Revolutionary Women*, 15, 20
- Roosevelt, Theodore, 50

- Science, technology, and math education (see Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM))
- Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics (STEM), 16, 44–45
- Secondary sources, 55
- Setting in character interpretation, 21–22
- Social studies, 44, 100
- “Soul of Sharecropper”, 174
- Stereotypes, 61
- Story
  - mapping, 87–88
  - power of, 27–28
  - structure, 20
  - type, 28–29
- Story value
  - learning, 31–32
  - narrative approach, 29–30
  - personal approach, 30
  - project-based learning, 37–38
  - six facets of understanding, 36–37
  - story and lesson, 30–31, 34–35, 38–41
  - storytelling, 35–36
  - teaching, 33
  - understanding through teaching, 34
- Storytelling, 6, 19–20, 29, 58–59, 83–84, 132–133
- Student
  - engagement, 5–9, 132
  - short ghost stories and short stories, 109–111
  - student performances, building capacity for, 103
  - student-produced costumed interpretations, 100
- Student products, 111–123
  - flying solo, 122–123
  - large group student opportunities, 113–117
  - partner/pairing opportunities, 117–122
- Swastika (symbol), 57
- Symbolic knowledge, 139
- Symbolism, 61
- Teacher-produced costumed interpretations, 100
- Teacher/professionally modeled options, 107–109
- Teaching, 33
  - understanding through, 34
- Teaching American History grant program (TAH grant program), 2, 80–81
- Teaching inquiry-based learning, 103
- Teaching model
  - bridging between classrooms and public history, 137–139
  - historical interpretation finding in voice, 135–137
  - model for classroom, 139–151
  - value stories, 132–134
- Technology, 56
  - for learning, 9
- “Thingness”, 191
- Third-person interpreter, 12, 16
- Third-person-costumed interpreter, 46
- Thoughts, Observations, and Questions historical thinking strategy (TOQ historical thinking strategy), 104
- 1800s Project Assignments, 123–124, 128
- Traditional media, 5–6
- Traditional storytelling, 138
- Transformational stories, 134
- Transportation model of narrative, 133
- Tucker, Darci, 13, 25
- Twitter, 231–232
- Understanding, 3
  - six facets of, 36–37
  - on student engagement and inquiry, 5–9
  - through teaching, 34

- US Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), 61
- Value stories, 132–134
- Vast Fund of General Information (VFOGI), 28, 37
- Visitor-centered model, 135
- Visual knowledge, 139
- Voice, 159
  - historical interpretation finding in, 135–137
- Weldon, Bill, 145
  - interview with Bill Weldon, Veteran interpretive planner and performer, 143–145
  - portraying historical character as matter of fact, 145–151
- Young readers engagement, 64–66
  - connections to economics and personal financial literacy, 76–77
  - creating cross-curricular connections, 72–76
  - foundations for creating engagement, 66–71
  - Moffat, 64, 66
  - parents jump on board, 78–80
  - sharing vision, 80–82
  - state order, 68
  - zipping up backpack beyond classroom, 82