Index

Autonomy, 49–50, 110, 114, 127

Citizens
  constitutional system, 65 deliberation, 67
  democratic citizens, 4–5, 105, 118 institutional designs, 134, 136–138, 140–141, 143–145, 148, 152 intersubjective learning, 108–109 liberal-democratic systems, 58–59 ordinary citizens, 81–82 political agents, 42
  political liberalism, 93–94 political theory of justice, 59 radical proceduralism, 121, 129–130
  reasonable quality, 89
  self-determination, 90
Constitutional court, 7, 17, 66–67, 81, 119, 146, 152–155, 157
Constitutional provisions, 90–92
Constitutional state, 76–83
Constructivism, 24, 52–53, 86
Cooperative discursive designs, 133–137
Counteraction, 103, 143, 146, 160, 167
Crisis reform, 163–164

Democracy
  democratic crisis, 1, 5–6, 161, 163–164, 167 democratic innovations, 137–139, 142, 147, 159, 165–166 democratic legitimacy. See Democratic legitimacy democratic toolkit, 145–146, 159–161, 165–166 institutions, 10–12
Democratic legitimacy, 1–4 communicative action, 70–76 democratic ideals, 15–16 epistemic dimension, 87 ideal speech situation, 70–76
Democratic procedures, 90–92
Democratic reform, 163–164
Disagreement reform, 163–164
Dryzek, J., 9–10, 14, 22, 44–45, 82, 108–109, 112–113, 123, 129, 133–136, 138, 143, 152, 167, 171

Epistemic abstinence, 40–45
Equality, 93–96
Estlund, D., 19, 27, 34–38, 41, 87, 89, 103, 164
Expertise, 93–96
Expertocratic, expertocracy, 7–8, 10, 13, 27–28, 35, 43, 81, 85, 93, 125, 152

Fairness transfer, 54–55

Germany/German, 11–12, 80–81, 121–123, 137–139, 142, 165–166

Habermas, J., 9, 11, 24, 26, 47, 69, 83, 86, 88–89, 91–92, 95–96, 104–105, 107–108, 119, 133, 135, 158, 165

Iceland, Icelandic, 11–12, 137–139, 142, 147–148, 151, 159, 161, 165–167
Ideal theory, 20–21, 68–69, 113
Inclusion, 9, 16, 18, 46–47, 86, 96, 98, 104, 113, 122, 134
Inclusive participation, 110–114

Institutional designs, 9–10, 13–14, 18–19, 23–24, 68–69, 88, 99–100, 103, 117, 124, 134–137, 142–143, 149, 161, 165–167
  open democracy, 143–160
  participatory institutional design (PID), 144 poitical institution, 16–19
  radical proceduralist institutional design, 133–143
Institutions
  action-guiding, 27–29
  constitutional state, 76–83
  constructivist, 23–27 decision making, 95–96
  deliberative politics, 76–83
  democratic legitimacy, 62–69 legitimate democratic institutions, 107–108 metatheoretical challenges, 19–29 political stability, 62–69 system of rights, 76–83
Instrumentalists, 87

Kant, I., 24, 49–52, 76, 86, 90, 99, 104–105, 113

Landemore, H., 34, 43, 114, 118, 137–138, 144–145
Legislation, 148–152
Legitimacy
  democratic legitimacy, 1, 15–16, 49–51, 53, 62, 69–70, 76, 85–87, 89, 100, 103–106, 122–123, 133, 146, 161, 164–165 political legitimacy, 8–9, 17, 23–24, 29, 32, 34, 50–52, 87–88, 104–105, 107, 110, 160–161

Open democracy, 118, 144–145
Openness, 76, 114, 118, 120, 133, 145, 169–170 open-endedness, 118–120
  reflectiveness, 114–118

Parliament, 7, 17, 66–67, 81, 126, 147, 159 Participation
  deliberative participation, 115 democratic legislative process, 77 democratic politics, 163
  equal autonomy, 110–114
  inclusive participation, 133 open-ended citizen participation, 136 political participation, 147–148, 170 public political forum, 94 routinised participation, 160
Participatory institutional design (PID), 135–139, 144, 147, 160, 166
Participatory toolkits, 160–161
Paternalism, 7–8, 43, 102, 134, 156, 164–166
Paternalistic threat, 7–8, 14, 43, 85, 103, 154–157, 164–165
Philosophical modesty, 68–69
Policies
  legislation, 148–152
  policymaking, 148–152
Policymaking, 148–152
Political criticism, 13–14
Political institutions, 1, 8, 13–14, 16, 18–19, 38, 52, 62–64, 66–67, 78, 97, 121, 127–128, 139–140, 154, 163, 167, 169–170 institutional design, 16–19
Political legitimacy, 8–9, 17, 23–24, 29, 32, 34, 50–52, 87–88, 104–105, 107, 110, 160–161
Political liberalism, 59, 61
Political theory, 13–14

Political truth
  action-guiding approach, 134, 164–165 community, 128
  democratic legitimacy, 28
  democratizing normative theory, 103
  epistemic abstinence, 40–45
  equality, 93
  expertise, 93
  proceduralism, 8–9, 120 procedure-independent political truth, 9 radical proceduralism, 40, 87
Politics
  deliberative, 76–83
  epistemic abstinence, 40–45
Proceduralism, 45–47
  citizens, 120–132
  limits of, 98–102
  political theorists, 120–132
  radical proceduralism, 125–130
Procedures
  aggregative procedures, 112 construction procedure, 57 deliberative procedures, 115
  democratic legitimacy, 31, 40, 53 democratic political procedures, 66 democratic political systems, 17
  democratic procedures, 87, 98, 167 political procedures, 18
  political truth, 40–45
  procedure-external standards, 164 procedure-independent notions, 8–9, 104–105
  radical proceduralism, 86 rational proceduralism, 34–38

Radical proceduralism, 38, 40, 60 claims, 129
  deflationary discursive account, 105–110
  democratizing normative theory, 103–110 disagreement, 168–169
  equal autonomy, 110–114
  Habermas's deliberative proceduralism, 69–83 inclusive participation, 110–114 institutional experimentation, 9
  openness, 114–118
  participatory toolkits, 160–161
  paternalism, 164–166
  political theorists, 125–130
  political truth. See Political truth Rawls's liberal proceduralism, 52–69 roles, 129
  systematic challenges, 85–98 Radical proceduralist institutional design cooperative discursive designs, 133–137
  participatory toolkits, 160–161 re-designing institutions, 137–143 re-thinking institutions, 137–143 social engineering design, 133–137
Radical proceduralist philosopher, 129–130, 135, 137, 168–169
Radical proceduralist theorist, 125, 128–129, 136
Rational reconstruction, 26, 74–75, 99, 108
Rawls, J., 9, 11, 16, 20–21, 24–27, 47, 52, 69, 86, 90–91, 93–94, 97, 99, 104–105, 156, 165
Raz, J., 8, 32–34, 36, 87
Realism, 20–23, 29–30
Reflection, 24, 50, 62, 112, 123, 143, 152, 161
Reflectiveness, 6, 11, 114, 117–118, 139, 143, 149–150, 169–170
Reform
  constitutional reforms, 147
  crisis reform, 163–164
  democratic reform, 163–164
  disagreement reform, 163–164 effectiveness, 166–167

expertocratic reform proposals, 7–9 institutional reform, 7–8, 134, 137–138, 159 political reform, 28
proposals, 147–148
radical proceduralist reform, 166–167 viability, 166–167
Representative democracy, 82, 144–145, 161
Rousseau, J., 50, 123–124

Self-legislation, 50
Social engineering design, 133–137
Social movements, 146, 158–159
System of rights, 76–83

Transfer of justice, 54–55
Truth, 45–47

Waldron, J., 3, 39, 44, 111, 122–123, 153, 171