

INDEX

- Accidental teachers, 16, 50
Adventurer, 35
Anomie
    Adam's story, 15–17
    COVID-19 era, 18–19
    growth paradox, 1–5
    international school, 5–7
    radically changing landscape, 7–10
    theorising changing landscape, 10–13
    Tristan's story, 13–15
Atlantic College in south Wales, 25
Attrition, 62

Bailey, Lucy, 23
Bernstein, Basil, 45–46
Blaney, Joseph, 31
Bourdieu, Pierre, 10
    cosmopolitan capital, 65
    cultural capital, 22–23
    doxa, 22
    nomos, 22–23
    psychological capital, 35 resilience capital, 3 social fields, 10 symbolic capital, 3
    transition capital, 64
British-ethos school, 22–23
Brunei, 37
Bunnell, Tristan, 1–3, 8, 28, 41, 110

Cambodia, 50
Canterford, Glenn, 21
China
    Beijing, 2
    Chengdu, 9
    Guangzhou, 9
    Hukou, 113
    Shanghai, 9, 113
    Suzhou, 32–33
    Tianjin, 56
    tier-1 city, 55
    tier-2 city, 56
Chinese host-country teachers, researching into, 113–118
Chinese internationalised school
    model (CISs), 4, 27, 42, 48
cosmopolitan nationalism, 12
data collection process, 48–49 implications for viewing, 75–76 interview participants, 49–51 nature and character, 42–45 nature of precarity in, 52–57 parents and students in, 46–48 precarity in context of, 48–57
regulative pillar, 45–46
schooling context, 51
Chinese internationalised school
    model (CISs), 112–113
Chinese national curriculum, 43
Clique, 90–95
Cognita, 7
Complementary 'positive psychology' lens, 109–112
Copenhagen, 14
Coping strategies, 87–90
Cosmopolitan enclaves, 5
Cosmopolitan nationalism,
    108–109
Council of International Schools
    (CoIS), 8–9

- COVID-19
     COVID-safe, 96–97
     era, 18–19
     pandemic, 96–97
 Cultural capital. See also Transition capital, 22–23, 40, 117
 Dangerous Class, 65
 Department clique, 90–91, 95
Doxa, 22
 Dubai, 2, 30
 Dulwich College, 27
 Durkheim, Emile, 11
 EAST K-12 non-profit private boarding school, 51
 Elite Traditional International Schools (ETISs), 8, 25
 English as a Second Language (ESL), 116
 English-speaking international schooling, 21, 23, 40–41, 101–102
 Escaping, 61
 Expat mobility, 35
 Friendship precarity, 87–88, 96
 Gardner-McTaggart, Alexander, 22, 36
 GEMS Education, 7
 Geneva, 25, 47–48
     International School of Geneva, 5
 Geo-political shifts, 3
 Global competency, 6
 Global education industry (GEI), 13, 24
 Global Educational Precariat (GEP), 16, 39, 65
 Global middle class (GMC), 12, 24, 65
 Globalisation, 36–37, 41
 Growth paradox, 1–5
 Hardman, John, 94
 Harrow School, 107
 Homesickness, 93
 Hong Kong, 31, 100–101
 India, 9
 Indonesia, 9
 Institutional primary task, 8, 25
 Intercultural competence, 22–23
 International Baccalaureate (IB), 5, 25, 43
     Learner Profile, 25
     Middle Years Programme, 91
     World School, 46
 International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme (IBDP), 6–7, 25
 International Chinese Private Bilingual Schools, 42
 International education, 1
 International Educational Psychology Services (IEPS), 90 International Mindedness (IM), 8, 22–23 delivery, 26
 International school growth paradox, 17
 International School of London, 6–7
 International School of London's overseas branch in Doha (ISLQ), 6–7 International schools. See also Chinese internationalised school model (CISs), 1–2, 5, 7 accredited, 8–9
     dysfunctional, 62
     ETIS, 8
     French overseas schools, 108
     'growth paradox', 1–5
     'ideal era/epoch', 11
     Japanese overseas schools, 108 micro-politics, 15, 111
     national international school, 108–109

- 'new era', 9–10
- non-traditional, 12
- 'post-ideal era/epoch', 39
- precarity fallacy, 110
- premium-sector, 7–8
- regulative pillar, 45–46
  - type A, 25
  - type B, 25
  - type C, 35
  - type C1, 26, 28–29
  - type C2, 28–29
- ISC Research, 1–2
- ISR.com*, 21–22, 63–64
- IST, 39
  - and 'new typology', 29–30
  - identity, 40
- Koh's study, 37
- Local hires, 43–44
- Local mobility, 35
- Mechanical solidarity, 11–12
- Micro management, 94
- Mobility capital, 85–86
- Myanmar, 27
- National international school, 108–109
- National schools, 46
- Negative sociological imagination, 40
- Negative sociology, 63
- Newbie clique, 91–92, 95
- Nomos*, 22–23
- Non-Exclusive International Schools, 42
- Non-traditional model, 43
- Nord Anglia, 7
- Normal negative sociology
  - emergent picture of working in arena, 30–38
  - emerging research agenda, 23–24
  - exploration of emergent teaching terrain, 24–30
  - ISTs and 'new typology', 29–30
  - literature regarding teachers, 34–38
  - neglected context of teachers, 21–24
  - traditional setting, 24–26
  - Western-trained teachers, 21–23
- Over-seas hires, 43–44
- Performative precarity, 80
- Peterson, Alec, 31
- Poole, Adam, 4, 14, 107, 117–118
- Positive sociology, 15, 62, 64, 76
- Post-ideal epoch, 9–10
- Precarious privilege, 18–19, 81–82
- Precarity, 30, 34, 79–80, 82
  - Chinese internationalised school model, 42–48
  - emerging new perspectives, 39–40
  - fresh, positive approach, 39–42
  - friendship, 87–88, 96
  - new imagination, 40–42
- Premium sector, 7–8
- Private equity, 11
- Privileged precarity, 82
- Programme clique, 91
- Public international schools, 108–109
- Qatar's 2002 Education for a New Era policy, 6–7
- Qualified Teacher Status (QTS), 49–50
- Regulative pillar, 45–46
- Relationship precarity, 32, 54, 57
- Reserves of resilience, 16–17, 80, 82
- Resilience, 16–17
  - capital, 64, 67, 96–97
  - as experiencing strategy, 71–75
  - fresh, positive narrative, 59–61
  - new vision, 59–67
  - positive sociology, 62–64
  - in practice, 67–76
  - as promotion strategy, 68–71

- Rules of Sociological Method, The*, 11
- Satellite college model, 102–108
- Saudi Arabia, 2
- Savva, Maria, 14, 35, 100
- Singapore, 26
- Sociological analysis and inquiry, 41
- Sociological imagination, 61, 67–68
- Sociological Imagination, The*, 42
- Sociology
   humanistic, 42
   negative, 47–48
   positive, 42
   Sociological Imagination, 42
- Sociology of International Schooling*, 4
- huge expanse of unexplored terrain, 102–113
- meeting need for ‘new imagery’, 99–102
- ongoing contribution to knowledge, 102
- research context, 99–102
- researching into Chinese host-country teachers, 113–118
- Sous rature*, 111
- South Africa, 50–51
- Standing, Guy, 13–14
- Status precarity, 32, 52, 54
- Susceptibility of joining clique, 95–97
- Switzerland, 36
- Tarc, Paul, 1, 14, 25, 108–109
- Teachers adventurers, 35 agency, 34
   Anglo-Saxon, 3–4
   from Britain, 22–23
   ‘clique’, 90–95
   contract, 26
   coping strategy, 34
   discrimination, 22
   ‘escaping’, 29–30
   Global Educational Precariat, 14, 16
   ‘lived experience’, 1, 36
   ‘lone wolf’, 94
   ‘maverick’, 94
   ‘middling actor’, 96
   ‘newbie’, 96
   from North America, 82 ‘outsider’, 96
   wellbeing, 90
   ‘whiteness’, 66
- Teaching programmes, 69
- Thailand, 50, 107
- Traditional model of international school, 44
- Traditional schools in China, 46–47
- Transition, 87
- Transition capital, 64, 84, 87
   clique, 90–95
   and coping strategies, 87–90
   susceptibility of joining clique, 95–97 turnover as semi-positive feature of life, 79–84
- Transitory phase, 13
- Tripartite typology, 35
- Turkey, 50, 108–109
- Turnover, 62
   as semi-positive feature of life, 79–84
- Type C1
   model in China, 41
   schools, 47–48
- United Arab Emirates, 2
- United Nations International School in New York, 5
- University of Bath, 13–14
- Vietnam, 2, 9, 31

- Wash-back effect, 47
- Wellbeing in International Schools*, 37–38
- WEST K-12 non-profit private boarding school, 51
- Western-trained teachers, 21–23
- Wright Mills, 41–42
- Yemini, Miri, 6, 12