

Index

- Academic educational level improvement, 289
- Accountability mechanism, 420
- Africa
 - China's energy diplomacy in, 73–74
 - geopolitical pattern in, 62–64
- Air pollution, 339, 344, 352, 353
 - air pollutant health effect, 362
 - health effect and economic loss caused by, 349, 351
- Akaike Information criterion (AIC), 92–93
- Alternative energy technology, 379
- America
 - actively repelled strategy, 381–382
 - American energy supply security index, 396
 - American strategic oil reserve, 383
 - Enron, 116–117
 - seeking for oil hegemony, 53–54
 - seizing Iran, 49–50
 - several hits, 47–48
 - strategic adjustment, 45–46
- America conquest in Middle East, 45–50
 - America's several hits, 47–48
 - seizing Iran, 49–50
 - strategic adjustment, 45–46
- American Association of Oil Geologists (AAPGs), 17–18
- American Energy Department, 380–381
- Analytic Hierarchy Process (AHP), 392
- Angarsk-Daqing oil pipeline of ESPO pipeline, 152
- Anglo-Iranian Oil Agreement, 82–83
- Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, 49
- Arab-Israeli War (1973–1974), 301
- Arabian American Oil Company (Aramco), 48–49
- “Arabian light”, price of, 87–88
- Arabian Oil Company (Japan), 382
- Arabian Sea, 59–60
- Arbitrage pricing theory model (APT model), 112
- “As-Is” Agreement of Achnacarry in Scotland, 81
- Asia-Pacific
 - China's energy diplomacy in, 75–77
 - geopolitical pattern of, 65–67
- Asian financial crisis, 173, 178–179, 194–195, 199
- Atasu-Alataw Pass, 151–152
- Atmospheric environmental pollution, 343–344
- Atmospheric pollutant concentration, 344
- Augment Dickey–Fuller test (ADF test), 94–99
- Augmented EGARCH model, 118
- Average yield of crude oil imports, 164

- Baku-Ceyhan Pipeline, 58
- Bashi straits, 144–147
- Bay of Bengal Initiative for Multi-Sectoral Technical and Economic Cooperation (BIMSTEC), 67
- Bio-ethanol fuel development, 384
- Bio-liquid fuels, 257
- Biodiesel, 266
- Biomass power generation, 265 resources, 258–259
- Biomass energy, 256–257 development, 264–266
- Black Sea, 59–60
- Brazil, energy diplomacy in, 75
- Brent crude oil, futures transaction of, 84
- Bretton Woods System, 86
- Britain's conquest in Middle East, 45–50 signing of "Red Line Agreement", 46–47 tear-up of "Red Line Agreement", 48–49
- British Fuel Use Right Movement (1982), 271–272
- British Nationality Clause, 47
- Capital asset pricing theory, 113
- Capital of Pollution. See China
- Carbon dioxide emission intensity, 410–411
- Carbon emission, 419
 index, 406–407, 410–411
 intensity, 406–407
- Carcinogens, 276
- Caribbean Oil Company, 64
- Caspian Sea, 59–60
- Census X12 seasonal adjustment method, 103
- "Central Asia-Central" pipeline system, 59
- Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), 49–50
- Chemical oxygen demand (COD), 419
- Chemical products manufacturing industry, 106
- Chemical raw materials, 106
- China, 340
 capital market, 112 coal consumption, 415–416 cross-border oil and gas import pipeline, 151–154 economic system, 318 economy, 299 energy consumption security, 297
 fossil energy security, 258–259 fragile energy supply system, 308
 implementing diversified energy import policy, 382–383
 implementing strategy of "going out", 388 nuclear power, 261 primary energy consumption, 343 provincial energy–economic developments, 235
 refined oil pricing mechanism, 177 refined oil supply system in, 326–330
 renewable energy resources, 259
 strategy on coal reserve, 230–233
 strategy on natural gas reserve, 226–230

- supplementary strategic oil reserves, 203–205
- urbanization rate, 357
- wind power, 262–263
- China Energy & Environmental Policy Analysis Model (CEEPA), 310, 317–318
- China Energy Statistical Yearbook (CESY)*, 239
- China Environment Bulletin*, 339–340
- China National Offshore Oil Corporation (CNOOC), 326, 427–428
- China National Oil Corporation (CNPC), 224–225, 326
- China National Petroleum Corporation, 121–122
- China Urban Statistical Yearbook* (2008), 345
- China's Long-Term Nuclear Power Development Plan (2005~2020), 261
- Chinese energy supply security system, 401–402
- Chinese Navy, 154
- Chongqing City Investment, 225
- Chongqing Model, 225
- Chongqing refined oil market model, 225–226
- Chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), 341
- Clean and renewable energy
 - effects on national energy security
 - financial support, 269
 - growth rates of, 253–257
 - industry support, 268–269
 - international comparison of development policies, 266–269
 - policy incentives, 266–268
 - proportion of clean and renewable energy, 257–258
 - substitution effect on fossil fuels, 253–258
 - substitution effect on fossil fuels, 258–266
 - target guidance, 266
- Clean and renewable energy
 - substitution effect on fossil fuels, 258–266
 - growing rapidly, 258–260
 - rich water resources, 260–261
 - solar energy utilization, 263–264
 - status and potential of biomass energy development, 264–266
- Climate change
 - challenges brought by global, 418
 - on China's energy security policy, 405–406
- Climate protection and China's energy security, 412–413
- Coal, 1–2, 421
 - based fossil energy, 340
 - coal-based fossil energy consumption, 418–419
 - and electricity shortage, 309
 - emission index of unit energy consumption, 393–394
 - emission intensity, 393–394
 - supply shortage, 308
- Coal reserve
 - of China, 230–233
 - recommendations on coal reserve strategy, 232–233
 - status of China's coal reserves, 230–231
 - of United States, 2
- Coal trade and transportation risk analysis, 182–184

- history and current situation of China's coal trade, 181–182
 - price risk, 182–183
 - supply risk of import source, 183–184
- Coal-bed methane (CBM), 422–423
- Columbia-America Agreement, 64–65
- Combustion emission, 361
- Commodity Futures Trading Modernization Law*, 129
- Comprehensive evaluation index system, 390–392
 - comprehensive evaluation mode of energy security, 392
 - of energy security, 390–392
 - energy supply security evaluation indicator system, 390–391
 - energy use security evaluation index system, 391–392
- Conventional financial price indexes, 111
- Cost function of China's strategic oil reserves, 212
- Council of European Union (2009), 309
- CPI, 319–320
 - crude oil supply shortage impact on, 313–314
- Credit support, 268
- Crossing Caspian Sea Natural Gas Pipeline, 59
- Crude oil, 3, 22–23
 - emergency strategic reserve management rules, 389
 - production, 301
- Crude oil imports, 173–175
 - diversification index, 171, 172
- Crude oil supply shortage
 - on China's social economy, 311–317
 - scenario setting, 310–311
- “Cultural Revolution” period, 29
- Customer
 - module, 330
 - storage fluctuation index, 333
 - storage index, 333
- Daqing oilfield, 143–144
- Darfur Issue, 73–74
- Data sources and processing, 93–94, 103
- Decentralized power generation system, 255–256
- Decision-making method, 392
- Democratic reconstruction of Middle East, 60
- Development Plan of Beijing Gas Station Industry (2009–2015), 330–331
- Dispersed oil import risk, 381–382
- Diversification, 159–160
 - America actively repelled strategy, 381–382
 - China implemented diversified energy import policy, 382–383
 - diplomacy and cooperation of energy, 387–388
 - for energy import trading and dispersing energy import risk, 381–383
 - energy transport corridors, 425–426
- EU drastically reformed energy market, 382
- evaluation index of, 391
- factors threatening energy security, challenge of, 416–417

- national energy security
 - management institutions, 388–389
- of natural gas reserve patterns, 227
- oil import channels, 382
- specific risks and diversification of China's oil imports, 162
- Diversification index
 - change of refined oil imports, 160–161
 - changes of China's crude oil imports, 161–162
 - of China's crude oil imports, 171, 172
 - of US crude oil imports, 171–172
- Domestic macro-economic policy, 378
- Domestic natural gas, 421–422
- Dose-response relationships, 344, 346, 352, 361
 - coefficient, 362
- Dual-track price system, 121
- Dynamic conditional correlation coefficients (DCC), 118
- Dynamic planning model of strategic oil reserve strategy, 210–216, 211–213
 - data sources and pretreatment, 213–214
 - scenario setting, 214–216
 - setting for main parameter in, 213
 - variable description of, 212
- Economic crisis, 215
 - impact on oil prices, 216–217
 - optimal reserve strategy for addressing, 219–220
- Economic development, 299, 302–304
- Economic evaluation of public health effect, 352–371
- Economic growth curves, 303
- Economic indexes, 420, 424
- Economic loss evaluation
 - of energy marginal health impact, 369
 - of sectors marginal health impact, 367–369
- Economic loss of urban air pollutant, 345–352
- Education level influence on traditional biomass energy consumption, 284–285
- Egypt-Syria allied forces, 50
- Electricity service, 294–295
- Electricity shortage, 408–409, 415–416
- Electricity supply shortage, 308
- Electrothermal production department, 367–368
 - sector, 367
- 11th Five-Year Plan, 185, 235–236, 263, 266, 419, 420
- Emergency plan
 - pulled down efficiency of dealing with energy emergencies, 309–310
 - of refined oil supply shortage, 325–335
- Empirical test, 118
- Employment, 320–322
 - crude oil supply shortage impact, 314, 315
- Endogenous variables, 131–132
- Energy
 - aerification, 18
 - cooperation, 387–388
 - corridor, 75–76

- crisis, 299
- demand of China, 415
- diversification index, 393–394
- efficiency, 380
- endowment, 398–399
- energy-consuming
 - enterprises, 307
- energy-saving and emission
 - reduction policy, 412
- financialization, 83–84
- flow map of China, 30–33
- import diversification, 431
- import diversity index, 393–394
- independence, 377–378
- intensity, 235, 393–394
- investment, 431–432
- ladder theory, 277
- marginal health impact, 369
- marketing reform, 427–428
- policy in Japan, 378
- preferential policy, 380–381
- price fluctuation, 393–394
- production security index, 393–394
- project development, 63
- saving products and
 - technology, 381
- supply sustainability, 409–410
- sustainability, 408
- use efficiency and reduced
 - energy consumption, 379–380
- Energy Act, 269–270
- Energy Balance Tables*, 239
- “Energy card”, Russia in playing, 54–55
- “Energy conservation and emission reduction” policy, 410
- Energy Conservation Communiqué*, 239
- Energy consumption, 271, 339, 408, 409
 - change characteristics, 27–28
 - characteristics in China, 27–33
 - in construction industry, 245
 - economic assessment of urban
 - air pollution and public health effect, 343–352
 - economic evaluation of public health effect to sector pollutant emission, 352–371
 - energy flow map of China, 30–33
 - environment and public health, 339–343
 - share, 235
 - share analysis, 237–238
 - structure, 377
 - structure change characteristics, 28–30
 - sulfur dioxide emissions, 37
- Energy consumption structure optimization, 384–387
- Energy development index (EDI), 292
 - in developing countries, 291–292
- Energy Development Strategy* (2050), 386
- Energy diplomacy, 69–77
 - in Africa, 73–74
 - in Asia-Pacific, 75–77
 - in Latin America, 74–75
 - in Middle East, 72–73
 - overseas upstream oil and gas assets rights and interests output, 71
 - proportions of China’s overseas investment projects, 70
 - in Russia in Central Asia, 70–72

- Energy emergency laws and regulations, 388–390
 - diversified national energy security management institutions, 388–389
 - significant gap, 389–390
- Energy Environment Meeting, 381
- Energy geopolitics, paying attention to, 387–388
 - actively developing energy cooperation, 387
 - China implementing strategy of “going out”, 388
 - Japanese government actively developed energy diplomacy, 387–388
- Energy Information Agency (EIA), 213–214
- Energy Policy and Reserve Method*, 52
- Energy poverty, 271
 - in rural residents rely on traditional biomass energy, 273–274
 - regional energy poverty assessment in China, 291–297
 - relationship between energy poverty and energy use security, 271–280
 - relationship between improvement of family economic conditions, 277–280
 - research on major influencing factors, 280–291
 - energy poverty and international status thereof, 271–273
 - traditional biomass energy consumption, 280–281
 - China’s current situation, 273–280
 - population index, 281–282
 - income level, 282–284
 - education level, 284–285
 - resource index, 285
 - rural regions in northeast and west China, 274–275
 - method introduction, 286–287
 - in low educational level, 275
 - model results and analysis, 287–291
 - energy poverty leads to serious health loss, 276–277
- Energy Poverty Index (EPI), 293
 - index construction, 292–293
 - provinces in China, 292–295
 - result analysis, 293–295
- Energy reserve, 309
 - energy reserve-production ratio, 393–394, 400–401
 - ratio, 393–394, 397–398
 - system, 426–427
- Energy reserve strategy
 - optimal release strategy of strategic oil reserves, 210–226
 - status and characteristics of global energy reserves, 193–200
 - supplement time and supplement strategies, 200–210
- “Energy Saving and Emission Reduction” policy, 380
- Energy Saving Law*, 379
- Energy security, 39–40, 299, 377, 390–392, 416
 - carbon dioxide emissions, 38
 - casualty number of mine security accidents and mortality, 37

- chronology of major events, 35–36
- connotation and evolution, 40–42
- diversification strategy for energy import trading, 381–383
- early-warning system establishment
- efficient energy security management institution, 388–390
- energy importing countries, 383–384
- energy technology investment, 379–381
- evaluation index, 393–394
- history in China, 34–36
- interpretation and understanding, 39–42
- optimizing energy consumption structure, 384–387
- paying attention to energy geopolitics, 387–388
- policies of typical countries, 377–390
- problem, 415
- Energy security in China, 120–142, 404–414, 425–429
 - challenges brought by global climate change, 418
 - climate change on China's energy security policy, 405–406
 - climate protection and, 412–413
 - control and protect environment, challenges to, 418–419
 - control total energy consumption, challenges to, 419–421
 - countermeasures and suggestions for safeguarding, 430–432
 - data sources and pretreatment, 406–407, 408
 - diversified factors threatening energy security, challenges of, 416–417
 - diversify energy transport corridors and declining transportation risk, 425–426
 - energy import keeps growing and dependence on foreign energy intensifies, 425
 - energy reserve system, 426–427
 - energy security early-warning system establishment, 432
 - optimizing industrial structure and realizing low-carbon development path, 430–431
 - optimizing storage & transportation-marketing-cooperation system, 430
 - outlook of China's energy supply and demand, 421–424
 - population under energy poverty, 428–429
 - protecting energy supply security, 432
 - rapid energy consumption growth, challenges of, 415–416
 - realizing diversification of energy import, 431
 - realizing industrialization of renewable energy, 431
 - reducing risk of import transportation, 431
 - reform of energy marketing and gradually optimized price system, 427–428

- strengthen planning and macro-control and meet demand, 431–432
- transformation from single security to multiple security, challenges of, 417–418
- Energy self-sufficiency, 393–394
 - rate, 407
 - ratio, 397–398
- Energy supply
 - and demand changes, 309
 - risk, 382–383
- Energy supply and demand in China, 421–424
 - growth rate of energy demand falls back, 421–422
 - implementing total quantity control policies, 422–423
 - proportion of coal consumption decreases, 422
- Energy supply security, 200, 253, 392–404
 - evaluation indicator system, 390–391
 - global financial crisis (2008), 403–404
 - index, 398–399
 - protection, 432
- Energy supply security index, 407–410
 - Chinese energy supply security system, 401–402
 - developing countries' energy supply security system, 400–401
 - energy-saving and emission reduction policy, 412
 - fell to low level from (2003–2005), 411
 - grew fast from (2006–2009), 411–412
 - index reduced slowly from (2006–2009), 409–410
- Indian energy supply security system, 402–403
- Japan energy supply security system, 399–400
- reducing rapidly from (2002–2005), 408–409
- restricted by energy endowment, 398–399
- rose in fluctuations, 410–412
- rose rapidly from (1996–2001), 408
- system of developed countries, 396–398
- Energy supply shortage in China, 308–310
 - imperfect energy supply precautions, 309–310
 - insufficient energy strategic reserve, 309
 - natural disasters “blasting fuse” of energy supply shortage, 308–309
 - typical events of energy supply shortage, 306–308
- Energy technology investment
 - energy preferential policy, 380–381
 - energy use efficiency and reduced energy consumption, 379–380
- Energy use security
 - evaluation index system, 391–392
 - relationship between energy poverty and, 271–280
 - “Energy-saving and emission reduction” policy, 405, 414
- Energy-saving technology, 379
- Enron Loophole, 129
- Enterprises, 229–230

- Environment and public health, 339–343
 - impact on environment of energy consumption, 339–341
 - public health effect caused by regional pollution and industrial emission, 342–343
 - research on public health effect caused by environmental pollution, 341–342
- Environmental health effect, 344–352, 354–355
- Environmental pollution, 340
 - research on public health effect, 341–342
- Environmental Protection Department, 339–340, 345
- Environmental protection index of energy consumption, 392
- European Auxiliary Energy Project, 381
- European debt crisis, 10–11, 303
- European energy market integration, 378
- European Union (EU)
 - drastically reformed energy market, 382
 - energy strategy* (2020), 386
 - EU Commission, 383–384
 - internal energy markets, 382
- Evaluation index
 - of diversity, 391
 - of energy security and description, 395
 - of reliability, 391
 - stability, 391
 - of sustainability, 391
- Ex-factory price index of industrial products, 106–107
- Exchange Agreements, 196–197
- Exogenous variables, 131–132
- Expected return of investment portfolio of oil import, 157
- Exploitation of petroleum and natural gas (EPN), 100–101
- Exposure
 - efficiency, 356–357
 - factor, 356–357
- Exxon, 48–49, 50–51
- Farm Act*, 129
- Federal Strategic Oil Reserve, 199
- Feedback model, 326, 327
- Financial
 - crisis, 13
 - tax means, 431
- Fine particles (PM_{2.5}), 343
- Fixed-line tariff policies, 267–268
- Flow model of refined oil retail supply stock, 327–330
- Food and Agriculture price, 314
- Food crops, 125
- Forest Law*, 291–292
- Fossil energy, 253, 415–416
 - consumption, 339, 341, 405, 413–414
 - See also* Global fossil energy reserves
- Fossil energy security in China, 258–259
- Fossil fuels, 253
 - China's clean and renewable energy substitution effect on, 258–266
 - substitution effect of world clean and renewable energy on, 253–258
- Fourth Middle East War, 86–87
- Fragile energy supply system in China, 308

- Free on board (FOB), 81
- Freight transport (Frei transport), 101–108
- Fuel ethanol, 265
- Fukushima nuclear accident, 13–16
 - global nuclear power generation and proportion, 15
 - proportions of nuclear power in primary energy, 15
- Future oil prices, 128

- Gansu Province, 294–295
- GARCH model, 114
- Gas field reserves, 227, 228
- Gas station
 - fluctuation index, 333
 - module, 328–329
 - oil shortage index, 333
- Gasoline futures transaction, 84
- GDP, 351–352
 - per capita, 283
- General Administration of Customs of China (GACC), 26
- Generalized energy security, 417
- Geopolitical pattern of major oil producing regions, 57–67
 - in Africa, 62–64
 - Asia-Pacific, 65–67
 - China's oil production, consumption and net import volume, 68
 - in Latin America, 64–65
 - Middle East, 59–62
 - Russia in Central Asia, 57–59
- German energy supply security, 398–399
- Gini Coefficient, 235, 237–238, 241–245
- Global economic crisis, 300, 306
- Global economy, 415
- Global energy
 - characteristics and strategies of strategic oil reserves in United States, 195–200
 - consumption, 392–394
 - global oil trade, characteristics of, 22–24
 - history and status, 193–195
 - model, 405–406
 - reserves, 193–200
 - supply, 392–394
 - trade, 22–27
- World coal trade,
 - characteristics of, 26–27
- World natural gas trade,
 - characteristics of, 24–25
- Global financial crisis, 397–398, 401, 403–404
- Global fossil energy reserves, 1–5
 - global primary energy consumption and growth rate, 6
 - global proved natural gas reserves, 4
 - global proved oil reserves, 3
 - proportions of World's top 10 countries of natural gas reserves, 5
 - proved crude oil reserves in different regions, 3
 - proved natural gas reserves in different regions, 5
 - World's top 10 countries of oil reserves and annual growth rate, 4
- Global macro-economy, 301–306
- Global oil trade
 - characteristics of, 22–24
 - China's crude oil importing sources and shares, 24

- oil-importing countries or regions and trade shares, 24
- shares of accustomed oil-importing countries, 23–24
- World's largest oil export region, 22–23
- Global primary energy consumption, 5–7
- changes in proportions of energy consumption, 8
- global GDP growth rate and energy consumption growth rate, 7
- Global renewable energy production and consumption, 7–10
- global renewable energy consumption and growth, 10
- global renewable energy installed capacity or throughput, 8
- proportions of World's major biofuel-producing countries, 9
- Global Terrorism Database (GTD), 97
- Gold price, 111
- Gradually falling oil price, stage of, 88–89
- Great Leap Forward Period, 27, 29
- Greenhouse gas, 405, 418
- Ground source heat pump, 256–257
- Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC), 111–112
- Gulf Crisis (1990–1991), 301
- Gulf of Aden and Somali waters, 154
- Gulf War, 215–216, 220
- Handshake diplomacy, 64–65
- Health effect
 - and economic loss, 361–362
 - evaluation of sector emission, 363–366
 - index, 344
 - See also* Social economic effects
- Heating oil, 84
- Hedge funds, 116
- Hedgers, 118–119
- High resource availability, 289–291
- High-emission sectors, 368–369
- High-energy-consumption, 368–369
- Hirschman-Herfindahl-Agiobenebo index (HHA index), 160
- Household welfare, 314–315, 316, 322
- Human Development Index, 292
- Hurricane Katrina (2005), 198, 214–215
- Hydropower, 258–259, 422
- Imperfect energy supply
 - precautions, 309–310
- Import price risk of crude and refined oil, 163–164
- Impulse response
 - analysis, 104–107
 - analysis of road transport industry shock, 107
 - of ex-factory price index of industrial products to oil price, 106
 - of industry investment to oil price, 105
 - of profit in each industry to oil price, 105
- Impulse response function (IRF), 93

- Income level influence on
 - traditional biomass energy consumption, 282–284, 287–289
- India-Africa Summit, 63
- India-African Economic and Trade Cooperation Meeting, 63
- Indian energy supply security system, 402–403
- Indian fossil energy reserve-production, 402–403
- Indian Ocean route for China's maritime, 147
- Indonesian coal, 184
- Indoor air pollution, 276
- Industrial(ization), 306
 - emission, 342–343
 - process emissions, 350, 357, 363
 - of renewable energy, 431
 - revolution, 418
- Industry (INDU), 100–101
 - pollutant emission, 342–343
- Inhalable particles (PM₁₀), 343, 350, 365–366
- Intake fraction (iF), 356–357
 - analysis method, 342–343
 - concept and correction, 356–357, 358
- International communication expansion, 378
- International community, 300
- International Country Risk Guide index (ICRG index), 91–92, 93
- International crude oil price, 317–324
 - on China's social economy, 318–324
 - scenario setting of the increase in, 318
- International crude oil price,
 - impact of increase in, 318–324
 - on CPI, 319–320
 - on employment, 320–322
 - on household welfare, 322
 - on macro-economic development, 318–319
 - on sectors production, 322–324
- International Energy Agency (IEA), 11, 51–52, 88, 193–194, 195, 198, 200, 214–215, 271–272, 300, 377, 387, 428–429
 - regulatory role, 302
- International Energy Agency Agreement*, 51–52
- International energy geopolitics, 415
- International Energy Planning Agreement (1974)*, 193–194
- International grain prices, 125–126
- International Maritime Bureau (IMB), 150
- International oil exchange (IPE), 84
- International oil market fluctuation on economy, 387
- International oil prices, 93–94, 100
 - economic crisis impact on oil prices, 216–217
 - emergencies impact on, 217
 - local armed conflict impact on oil prices, 217–218
 - sudden natural disaster impact on oil prices, 216
 - supplement impact and release of china's strategic oil reserves on, 221–222

- “Interval benchmark”, 292–293
- Investment (Inv), 101–108 portfolio model, 157–158 portfolio risk of oil import, 158 risk, 112
 subsidies, 268–269
- Iran-Iraq War, 87–88, 301
- Iran’s oil production, 300
- Iranian nuclear crisis in Middle East, 1
- Iranian Revolution, 87–88
- Iraq Oil Company (IPC), 82–83
- Japan energy supply security system, 399–400 natural gas reserves, 227
- Japanese energy emergency agency, 388–389 government developing energy diplomacy, 387–388
- Jasmine Revolution in North Africa, 1
- Kyoto Protocol*, 418
- Latin America
 China’s energy diplomacy in, 74–75
 geopolitical pattern in, 64–65
- Law of Lowest Liquid Fuel Reserve*, 383
- Linkage effect, 91
- Liquid bio-fuel, 257
- Liquidity, excessive, 116
- LNG, 186
 reserves, 226, 228
 trade and transportation status and risk in China, 188–190
See also Natural gas
- Local armed conflict, 215–216 impact on oil prices, 217–218
 optimal reserve strategies for, 220–221
- Local sales company module, 328
- Lord’s Resistance Army, 73–74
- Low oil price, period of, 85–86
- Macro-economy, 108–110
 crude oil supply shortage impact on, 311–313
 development, 318–319
- Malacca Strait, 144–147, 151
- Mandab Strait, 147–148
- Manufacturing of chemical raw materials and chemical products (MRCM), 100–101
- Manufacturing of non-metallic minerals (MNM), 100–101
- Marginal damage of energy, 370
- Market
 market-oriented reform, 121 shares of OPEC, 89
- Mediterranean Sea, 59–60
- Methane, 274–275
- Middle East
 China’s energy diplomacy in, 72–73
 geopolitical pattern of, 59–62
- Middle Indian Ocean route, 147
- Mobil, 48–49, 50–51
- Modern technology utilization, 253
- “Monroe Doctrine” foreign policy, 45–46
- National Coal Emergency Reserve Program, 230
- National emergency sharing organization, 388

- National energy security
 - China's energy security
 - against background of climate change, 404–414
 - comprehensive evaluation index system and method, 390–392
 - energy supply security in typical countries, 392–404
 - policies of typical countries, 377–390
- National Liquid Fuel Agency, 383
- National security strategy, 377–378
- National strategic oil reserves, 193, 200
- Natural disasters “blasting fuse” of energy supply shortage, 308–309
- Natural gas, 421–422
 - consumption proportion, 20
 - production, 408–409
 - reserve of China, 226–230
 - reserve patterns and characteristics, 226–228
 - status and strategy of, 228–230
 - supply and demand in China, 185
 - supply security, 425
- Natural Gas Reserve Law*, 227–228
- Natural gas trade and transportation risk in China, 186–190
 - analysis on current situation of natural gas supply and demand, 185
 - analysis on LNG trade and transportation status and risk, 188–190
 - analysis on pipeline gas trade and transportation status and risks, 186–188
- Near East Development Company, 45–46
- Neocolonialism, 73
- Nitrogen dioxide (NO₂), 343
- Non OPEC, oil output of, 88
- Non-combustion emission, 357
- Non-commercial energy, 293–294
- Non-fossil fuels, 253–254, 255–256
- Non-metallic mineral products industry, 106
- Non-OECD, 7
- Non-solid energy, 274–275
- North Indian Ocean route, 147
- Nuclear energy, 88–89, 384–385
 - consumption, 20–21
 - See also* Renewable energy
- Nuclear power in China, 261
- Nuclear power plant operation extension plan, 16
- “Nuclear Reduction” project, 385
- NYMEX, 84, 118
- October War, The. See Fourth Middle East War
- Oil
 - America seeking for oil hegemony, 53–54
 - consumption proportion, 20
 - demand shocks, 95
 - diffusion market diversification strategy, 52
 - embargo, 50–51, 193–194
 - establishment of oil dollar system, 86
 - exploration and development, 115
 - industry, 104
 - oil-gas field, 380–381

- output of non OPEC, 88
- shortage, 224, 225, 309, 325–326, 332–333, 408–409, 415–416
- stocks development, 194–195
- technology transfer
 - commission, 380–381
 - weapon, 56–57
- Oil and Oil Product Reserve Law*, 383–384
- Oil Community Law*, 382
- Oil crisis, 210, 253, 378
 - contrast of previous global oil supply shortage, 301
 - on economic development, 302–304
 - on global macro-economy, 301–306
 - on social inflation, 304–305
 - on US social employment, 305–306
- Oil finance development and risk analysis, 113–120
 - oil future market speculation and price fluctuation, 117–120
 - potential risks of investment in energy industry entities, 116–117
 - rising fluctuation of oil price and increasing uncertainty, 116
 - risk of financial system, 117
 - risks, 116–117
 - significance, 113–116
- Oil futures market, 115
 - speculation and price fluctuation, 117–120
- Oil import in China
 - channels, 382
 - comparison on specific risk of crude oil and refined, 159–162
 - comparison on system risk, 163–167
 - data sources, 158–159
 - differences between crude oil and refined oil trades, 154–157
 - diversification, 381–382
 - diversification index of crude oil and refined, 159
 - investment portfolio model, 157–158
 - risk assessment model of investment portfolio, 157–159
- Oil price system, 79–84
 - biodiesel production trend, 125
 - Brent oil prices' responses to political risk shocks, 97
 - and China's energy security, 120–142
 - comprehensive ranking of oil companies, 123
 - contract price of WTI futures, 90
 - contradictions between energy security and food security, 122–127
 - contributions of OPEC's political risk shocks, 96
 - data sources and processing, 93–94
 - dummy variables in vector autoregression models, 96
 - estimated results of SVAR, 94–99
 - evolution, 80–84, 120–121
 - fluctuation characteristics, 84–90
 - formation, 79–80
 - future oil price trend, 127–129
 - industrial levels, 100–108
 - macro-economy, 108–110

- main influencing factors of oil price fluctuation, 90–99
- impact of oil price fluctuation on economy and finance, 99–113
- oil prices and global economy recession, 109
- oil supply side, 113
- pricing mechanism and oil security, 121–122
- ranking of largest oil companies, 124
- raw materials for producing bio-fuels, 125, 126
- responses of Brent oil prices, 95
- results analysis, 136–142
- scenario and data, 136 and SPR, 131–142
- stock market, 111–113
- SVAR model, 92–93
- total consumption quantity of oils, 101
- See also* International oil prices
- Oil Reserve Law*, 383
- Oil supply
 - and demand, 301–302
 - risk of oil supply disruption, 148–149
 - shortage, 310–317
- “Open Door Policy” flag, 45–46
- Optimal strategy of strategic oil reserves in China, 218–221, 223
- for addressing economic crisis, 219–220
- dealing with sudden natural disasters, 218–219
- for local armed conflict, 220–221
- Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD), 7, 51–52
- Organization of Oil Exporting Countries (OPEC), 80, 300
 - age of, 82–83
 - market shares, 89
 - net oil export revenues, 114
 - spare capacity, 89
- Organization of the Arab Oil Exporting Countries (OAPEC), 86–87
- Panama Canal, 144–147
- Panel data, 286–287
- Per capita commercial energy consumption index, 293–294
- Per capita electricity consumption, 293
- Per capita energy consumption, 393–394, 404
- Persian Gulf War, 401
- Petrocaribe Oil Plan, 64
- Petrochemical Adjustment and Revitalization Plan*, 224–225
- Petroleo De Venezuela S. A (PDVSA), 122
- Phillips–Perron test (PP test), 94–99
- Pirate attacks, 150–151
- Plunging oil price, periods of, 90
- Policy incentives, 266–268
- “Political deadlock”, 377–378
- Political power, 65–66
- Political risk index, sub-components of, 93, 94
- Pollutant emission, 357
- Population
 - under energy poverty, 428–429
 - index, 281–282

- Population size, as major influencing factors of traditional biomass energy consumption, 287
- Power rationing, 415–416
- Price/pricing discovery function of market, 115 gradually optimized price system, 427–428
 mechanism of China's crude oil and refined oil, 176–177 risk in coal trade and transportation, 182–183
 security, 130–131
- Primary energy consumption in China, 343
 structure, 21–22
- Processing and coking of oil and processing of nuclear fuel (PP), 100–101
- Product subsidies, 269
- Production capacity reserve, 232
- Profits of enterprises (Pro), 101–108
- Provincial energy consumptions, 236–237
- Provincial energy–economic developments in China, 235
- Provincial sectors for energy conservation in China China's provincial assignment of energy intensity, 236 data descriptions, 238–240 energy consumption in construction industry, 245 key (i, j) for energy conservation in industrial sectors, 240–245
 key (i, j) for energy conservation in tertiary industry, 246
 key province for energy conservation in agriculture sector, 240
 rural and urban residential energy consumption, 246–249
 sector full names and codes,
 251–252
Provincial Statistical Yearbooks, 239
- Public health caused by environmental pollution, 341–342 caused by regional pollution and industrial emission, 342–343
 economic assessment of urban air pollution and, 343–352 economic evaluation of public health effect to sector pollutant emission, 352–371 effects, 352
 of energy consumption, 339–343
- Qinhuangdao port, 307
- Quantitative model research, 111
- Quick rise of oil price, period of, 86–88
- Ramadan War. See Fourth
 Middle East War
- Rapid energy consumption growth, challenge of, 415–416
- Real pan-European integrated energy market, 382
- Red Line Agreement signing of, 46–47
 tear-up of, 48–49
- Red Sea, 59–60

- Refined oil price formation mechanism, 177
- Refined oil pricing, 177, 322
- Refined oil reserve of China, 222–226
necessity of refined oil reserves, 222–224 status of China's refined oil reserves and reserve strategies, 224–226
See also Strategic oil reserves in China
- Refined oil retail supply stock, 326 customer module, 330 flow model of, 327–330 gas station module, 328–329 local sales company module, 328
- Refined oil supply shortage effects, 331–335
emergency plan of, 325–335 index setting, 331, 333, 335 model setting, 330–331 parameter setting, 330–331
refined oil supply system in China, 326–330
scenario setting, 331, 332
- Refined oil supply system in China, 326–330
causal relationship between refined oil retail and supply, 326 flow model of refined oil retail supply stock, 327–330 process, 326
- Regional energy poverty assessment in China,
291–297
China's energy consumption security, 297
EDI in developing countries,
291–292
- EPI of provinces in China, 292–295 research of China's energy poverty problem, 297–298
- Regional pollution, 342–343
- Reliability, evaluation index of, 391
- Renewable electricity, 384
- Renewable energy, 254–256, 258
development goals in major countries, 267
power generation policies, 266–267
production, 384
realizing industrialization of, 431 resources, 259, 399–400
See also Nuclear energy
- Renewable Energy Generation Quota System policy (RPS policy), 268
- Renewable Energy Law* (2005),
386–387
- Renewable energy resources in China
- Resource
index, 285
reserve, 232
- Respiratory diseases, 276–277
- Risk assessment model of investment portfolio of oil import, 157–159
aversion function of market, 115 of investment portfolio in oil imports, 165–166 of marine transportation of crude oil imports, 166–167
of oil supply disruption, 148–149 spillover test, 116

- Road transportation industry, 107
- Rural household welfare, 322
- Rural residential energy consumption, 246–249
- Russia, 187–188
China's energy diplomacy in,
70–72
geopolitical pattern of, 57–59
natural gas reserves, 226–227
in playing “energy card”, 54–55
Russia-China oil pipeline plan, 387–388
- Ryukyu Islands, water channels of, 144–147
- S&P 500, 111
- Schwarz Information criterion
(SC), 92–93
- SD-SPRC model, 131–136 flow diagram, 132 system boundary analysis, 131
variables, 133
- Second National Economic Census (SNEC), 239
- Second world oil crisis
(1979–1980), 194
- Sector pollutant emission,
352–371 energy marginal health impact, economic loss evaluation
of, 369
sectors marginal health impact,
economic loss evaluation
of, 367–369
health effects and economic loss evaluation of sector
emission, 363–366
urban dwellers' environment health economic loss, 354–356
concept and correction of intake fraction, 356–357
evaluation and data processing, 357–361
evaluation method of health effect and economic loss, 361–362
scenario analysis, 369–371
- Sectors marginal health impact,
economic loss evaluation
of, 367–369
- Sectors production, 315–317, 322–324
- Self-sufficient rate, 378
- “Seven Sisters”, age of, 80–82
- Shaanxi-Beijing pipeline gas distribution system, 229
- Shale gas overturns global natural gas structure, 16–18
- Shandong Province, 231
- Shanghai Cooperation
Organization (SCO), 71
- Share of clean renewable energy, 393–394
- Share of terminal energy consumption electricity, 393–394
- Short-term oil prices, 128–129
- Shuttle diplomacy, 73–74
- Single natural gas reserve management model, 227–228
- Sino-Central Asia natural gas pipeline, 153 oil and gas pipeline, 72
- Sino-Kazakhstan oil pipeline, 71, 151–152
- Sino-Myanmar oil and gas pipeline, 152–153
- Sino-Pakistan oil pipeline,
153–154

- Sino-US crude oil import risks
 - “buying when price rises and not buying when price drops” phenomenon, 175–179
- China’s crude oil imports, 173–175
- comparative analysis on, 179–181
- comparison on Sino-US crude oil import strategies, 179
- differences in diversification of Sino-US crude oil imports, 171–172
- differences in Sino-US crude oil import transportation risk, 170–171
- differences in strategy of Sino-US crude oil imports, 173–179
- differences of Sino-US crude oil import sources, 169–170
- status and external dependence, 168–169
- Sino-Uzbekistan Natural Gas Pipeline Construction Agreement, 153
- Sinopec, 224–225
- “Small step walk” strategy, 72
- Soaring oil price, period of, 89–90
- Social economic effects
 - on China’s social economy, 318–324
 - crude oil supply shortage on China’s social economy, 311–317
 - international crude oil price, 317–324
 - of oil supply shortage, 310–317
 - scenario setting of crude oil supply shortage, 310–311, 318
- Social economy in China, 310–317
 - impact of increasing international crude oil price, 318–324
- Social inflation, 304–305
- Solar energy, 258–259
 - utilization in China, 263–264
- Solar photovoltaic power generation system, 257–258, 268–269
- Solar thermal utilization, 256–257
- South China Sea dispute, 76–77
- South Indian Ocean route, 147
- South Oil Company, 64
- Speculation of hedge funds, 118
- “Spillover effect” of oil price, 114
- Spot reserves, 233
- Stability, evaluation index, 391
- Stable oil price, period of, 85–86
- Stackelberg model of US strategic oil reserve, 210–211
- Statistical survey system, 103
- Stochastic dynamic planning model, 211
- Stock
 - market, 111–113
 - price, 111
- Storage & transportation-marketing-cooperation system optimization, 430
- Strait of Hormuz, 147–148
- Strategic oil reserves in China
 - best supplement time and supplement strategies, 200–210
 - dynamic planning model of strategic oil reserve strategy, 210–216
 - emergencies impact on international oil prices, 216–218

- optimal release strategy under unexpected incidents, 210–226
- optimal strategy, 218–221
- optimal supplement time and strategy of, 205–210
- planning model for uncertain dynamics, 201–205
- planning on strategic oil reserve of China, 200–201
- strategy on refined oil reserve, 222–226
- supplement impact and release, 221–222
- supplementary, 203–205
- Strategic oil reserves in United States, 195–200
 - and energy source diversification, 51–53
 - major releases of US strategic oil reserves, 196–198
 - opportunities for supplement and strategies of, 199–200
- Strategic petroleum reserve (SPR), 131–142
- Strategic reserve system, 399–400
- Structural breaks, 92–93, 96
- Structural Vector Autoregression model (SVAR model), 91–93
 - establishment, 102
 - estimated results, 94–99, 103, 104
- Sudden natural disasters, 214–215, 222
 - impact on oil prices, 216
 - optimal reserve strategy for dealing with, 218–219
- Suez Canal, 147–148
- Sulfur dioxide (SO₂), 343, 359–360, 365–366
 - emission of unit energy consumption, 393–394, 410–411
- Sultan mode, 63
- Supply
 - and demand balance, 221
 - security, 390
- Sustainability, evaluation
 - index of, 391
- Sustainable development, 339
- System boundary analysis, 131
- Tax incentives, 268
- Technology
 - innovation encouragement, 378
 - research investment and improving domestic production, 380–381
- Teisberg's dynamic planning model, 210–211
- Thermal energy, 256–257
- Thermal isolation index, 379
- Total energy consumption, 341
- Total suspended particulates (TSP), 341, 343, 359–360
- Traditional biomass energy, 271–272, 274
 - consumption, 280–281, 429
- Transformation challenge from single security to multiple security, 417–418
- Transition of China's energy role, 67–69
 - oil exporting country to oil importing country, 69
 - oil-poor country to oil exporting country, 67–69
- Transportation industry (TRAN industry), 100–101

- Transportation risk analysis of
 - main energy trade channel, 151–154
 - analysis on main risk faced by marine transportation of oil, 148–151
 - Chinese Navy, 154
 - cross-border oil and gas import pipeline, 151–154
 - pirate attacks, 150–151
 - risk of oil supply disruption, 148–149
 - routes of China's oil and gas imports, 145–146
 - sources of crude oil imports, 149
 - transportation channel for energy trade, 143–148
- Turmoil in Middle East and North Africa, 10–11
- Uncertain dynamic planning model, 201–205
 - basic assumptions of model, 203–205
 - data sources, 205
 - definition and description of variables, 204
- Unconventional natural gas, 422–423
- Underground gas storage, 227, 228
- Unified gas supply system, 226–227
- United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization (UNFAO), 125–126
- Unobserved heterogeneity, 112
- Urban air pollution, 343–352
- Urban air pollution and public health effect economic assessment
 - environmental health effect and economic loss of urban air pollutant, 345–352
 - evaluation method and data resource of environmental health effect, 344–345
 - health effect and economic loss, 354, 355
 - research background, 343–344
 - scenario analysis, 352
- Urban dwellers' environment
 - health economic loss, 354–356
- Urban energy structure optimization, 350
- Urban residential energy consumption, 246–249
- Urbanization rate in China, 357
- US Commodity Futures Commission (CFTC), 118
- US Department of Energy, 178–179, 199
- US Earth Policy Institute (EPI), 125
- US Energy Information Agency (EIA), 93–94
- US natural gas reserves, 226
- US social employment, 305–306
- US subprime crisis, 303
- User subsidies, 269
- Variance decomposition approach (VDA), 93, 108
- Vector autoregressive model, 111
 - See also* Structural Vector Autoregression model (SVAR model)
- Venezuela, energy diplomacy in, 75
- Vitol Energy Group, 118–119

- “Walking out” strategy, 69
- Water
- channels of Ryukyu Islands, 144–147
 - corridor, 147–148
 - resources in China, 260–261
- Weather forecasting technology, 308–309
- Wind energy, 258–259
- Wind power in China, 262–263
- World coal trade
- characteristics of, 26–27
 - China, 26–27
 - World Coal Exports, 26
- World Energy consumption
- structure, 18–21
 - natural gas consumption proportion, 20
 - nuclear energy consumption, 20–21
 - oil consumption proportion, 20
- World Energy Council (WEC), 1–2
- World energy crisis, 299–306
- historical review, 300–301
 - impact of oil crisis on global macro-economy, 301–306
- World Energy Development
- Fukushima nuclear accident, 13–16
 - future World Energy Demand, 11
 - global energy demand forecast, 12
 - global financial crisis, 12–13
 - global fossil energy reserves, 1–5
 - global new investment for renewable energy, 12, 13
 - global primary energy consumption, 5–7
 - global renewable energy production and consumption, 7–10
 - new trends in, 11–22
 - primary energy consumption structure, 21–22
 - renewable energy consumption proportions and development targets, 14
 - review of, 1–11
 - shale gas overturns global natural gas structure, 16–18
 - turmoil in Middle East and North Africa and European debt crisis, 10–11
 - World Energy consumption structure, 18–21
- World energy geopolitics
- development, 45–53
 - America seeking for oil hegemony, 53–54
 - Britain and America’s conquest in Middle East, 45–50
 - confrontation between IEA and OPEC, 50–53
 - EU and Japan in contradiction, 55
 - geopolitical pattern of major oil producing regions, 57–67
 - new pattern of energy geopolitics in world, 53–57
 - OPEC suffering impact, 56–57
 - rising emerging countries, 55–56
 - Russia in playing “energy card”, 54–55
 - transition of China’s energy role, 67–69

- World natural gas trade
 - characteristics of, 24–25
 - constraints on transportation conditions, 24–25
 - natural gas importers, 25
 - See also* Global oil trade
- World Nuclear Association (WNA), 15
- World oil market in
 - future, 127
- World Oil Treasury, 59–60
- WTI Crude Oil Future Price
 - Trend, 10–11
- Yom Kippur War. See Fourth Middle East War
- Yunnan Province, 284–285