INDEX

Abstract conceptualisation, 14
Agency, 47
Ambiguity, 69–70
Attribution, 37–38
  error, 42–44

Baseball players, 32
Bias, 37–38, 42, 44
Binocular focus, 62
Briefing, 41–42
Business, 82

Change programmes, 64
Cognitive decoupling, 48–49
Collingwood, Paul, 16–20 knowledge and knowing, 18–19 learning culture, 17–18 reflection and analysis, 19–20
Community learning, 14–15
Complexity, 69–70
Containment, 58
Copeland, Claire, 33–38
  attribution and bias, 37–38 group reflection and debrief, 36 honesty and professional integrity, 36
  personal professional reflective practice as medical professional, 33–35 practitioner summary, 37 workflow and reflection, 35
Creative approaches, 84
Creative culture in organisations, 83
Creative process, 80–81
Creative writing, 77–78 approaches to developing creative writing skills, 78–80 first and third person in, 80 in problem-solving, 83
Creativity, 64–65, 71, 78, 82
  in reflective writing, 85
Cricketers, 32
Critical incident technique, 90–91
Critical incidents (CI), 30–32
Curiosity, 71
Cyclical model, 13–14
Cyclical process, 12–13

Data, 5–6
Debrief, 36
Decision-making, 1–2, 11 abilities, 5–6 processes, 7–8
Deficit-focused model, 61–62
Digitisation, 9
Double loop learning, 15–16

Effective learning, 25
Elite footballers, 32
Emotional dimension of reflection, 41
Emotional effects in workplace, 27–30
Enlightened professional artistry, 12–13
Epistemic imperative, 48–49
Excitement, 71
Executive coaching, metaphor in, 59–61
Experience, 14
Experiential learning, 70–71

Experiential reflective learning, 29–30
Experimentation, 14
'Explicit' knowledge, 8–9

Fear, 71
Feedback, 41–42
Feeling, 77
Fundamental attribution error, 91

Group reflection, 36
Guiding questions, 28
Gunn, Kirsty, 81
  creative approaches and problem-solving, 84
  creative culture in organisations, 83 creative writing in problem-solving, 83 creativity in reflective writing, 85 language, creativity and business, 82

Hearing, 77
Heider's fundamental attribution error, 37–38
Hierarchical model of reflective practice, 28–29
Holding, 58
Holographic technologies, 37
Honesty, 36

Individual reflection, 11–12, 26–27
Institutionalisation of reflective paradigm, 9
Interpretive philosophy, 49
Intuition, 1

Knowing, 7 Knowledge, 7 to knowing, 7, 18–19 learning and, 7–9 management, 11–12
  networks, 8–9 pyramid, 9 sharing, 7–9 value and nature, 6–7
Kolb's experiential learning cycle, 14
Kolb's model of problem-based learning, 12–13
Kolb's problem-solving model, 14–15

Lafferty, Joe, 56
Language, 82
Leaders, 1–2, 5, 37, 48–49 in contemporary society, 69–70
  reflection, 70–71
Leadership, 5–7 thinking, 49 Learning, 5–7 culture, 17–18
  and knowledge, 7–9 organisational, 9–11
Locus of causality, 38

Management science, 12
Medical training, 35
Memory and perception in reflective practice, 39–40
Metaphor in executive coaching, 59–61
Mezirow's model, 29
Mindset development, 32–33

Organisational learning, 9–11
'Other', 6–8, 49–50, 91–92
  in reflection practice, 62

Personal professional reflective practice as medical professional, 33–35
Phenomenological philosophy, 49
Play, 64–65
Poetry, 76
Post-modern movement, 8
Power of poetry, 76
Practicum, 53–54
Practitioner Perspective, 16, 20, 25, 33, 38–39, 44, 78, 81, 85
Problem-solving, 84 creative writing in, 83
  models, 6–7

Problematic experiences, 30–32
Professional integrity, 36
Professional reflection, 26–27
Professional reflective practice critical incidents and problematic experiences, 30–32 emotional effects in workplace, 27–30
  mindset development, 32–33
  practitioner perspective, 33, 38–39, 44
  structuring reflective practice, 26–27
Professional sport, 47
Psychoanalysis, 58
Psychoanalytic coaching approaches, 76–77
Psychoanalytic techniques, 91–92
Psychodynamic training, 59

Reflection, 1–2, 7, 9, 12, 14, 25, 47, 69, 89
  and analysis, 19–20 in change programmes, 64 to creative reflection, 94
  creativity, 64–65
  as deficit-focused model, 61–62
  models, 13–16
  'other' in reflection practice, 62 to reflexivity, 51–53
  trust importance in producing useful outcomes from reflection, 62–63
Reflective epistemology, 48–50
Reflective leader, 50–51
Reflective learning, 13–14
  in elite handball, 42
Reflective practice, 5, 7–8, 10–11, 13, 47, 69–71, 89 aspects, 91
  organisational context of, 56–59
Reflective stretch, 11
Reflective writing, creativity in, 85
Reflexive epistemology, 48–50
Reflexive pedagogy in leadership education, 54
Reflexive practicum framework, 51–52 for reflective leaders, 53–55
Reflexive techniques, 69
Reflexivity, 7–8, 51, 53
  in social theory, 52–53
Resuscitation courses, 35
Retail industry, 6
Rugby players, 32

Seeing, 77
Small, Eddie, 78–81
Smelling, 77
Socialisation process, 9
Soft ball players, 32
Structure, 47
Structuring reflective practice, 26–27
Svensson, Martin, 39–44 attribution error and bias, 42–44
  emotional dimension of reflection, 41
  feedback and briefing, 41–42 finding time for reflection, 40–41
  memory and perception in reflective practice, 39–40
  reflection and reflective practice, 39 reflective learning in elite handball, 42

'Tacit' knowledge, 8–9
Taylorism, 12
Technical rationality, 48–49
'Technical' knowledge, 8–9 360 tool, 57
Thoughtful practice, 14–15
Time for reflection, 40–41
Touching, 77
Transference, 59
Transience, 69–70
Trauma courses, 35

Trust importance in producing useful outcomes from reflection, 62–63

Uncertainty, 69–70

Vicarious elaboration, 73
Video analysis, 32

Workflow, 35