EDITORIAL STATEMENT

Political Power and Social Theory is a peer-reviewed annual journal committed to advancing the interdisciplinary understanding of the linkages between political power, social relations, and historical development. The journal welcomes both empirical and theoretical work and is willing to consider papers of substantial length. Publication decisions are made by the editor in consultation with members of the editorial board and anonymous reviewers. For information on submissions, please see the journal website at www.emeraldgroupublishing.com/tk/ppst

SERIES EDITOR'S INTRODUCTION

It is with great honor that I present this special volume of PPST, International Origins of Social and Political Theory. Based upon a workshop held at the London School of Economics and Political Science in 2016, this volume offers fresh insights on the hitherto under-examined relations between international history and social theory. Thanks to co-editors Tarak Barkawi and George Lawson for putting this volume together and to the authors for their eye-opening contributions.
