

INDEX

- Aboriginal education, 115–116
- Aboriginal peoples, 115–116
- Ad Hoc working habits, 174
- Administrative staff, entitled position
 - causes difficulties for, 270–271
- Aelterman, Antonia, 9
- Aesthetic ethics, 141–143
- African “spices”, 43
- Agency, 222–223, 256–257
- Ages, 159–160
- Agrarian age, 159
- Amalgams of experience, 235–240
 - professor-professor story, 236–238
 - professors-graduate student story, 235–236
 - restoring, 238–240
- American Association of University Professors, The (AAUP), 234
- American Educational Research Association (AERA), 23–24, 72–73
- Anthropology, 282–283
- Anti-racism, 118–119, 121
- Appreciative system, 66
- Apprenticeship of Observation, 32, 66–67, 164–165
- Apprenticeship training model, constructing teacher education as, 31
- Arab educational system, 175
- Arab mentors evaluations, 175
- Arizona Group, The (1997), 64
- Art-space method, positioning narrative inquiry as, 129–130
- Artifacts, 61–62
- Artificial intelligence (AI), 160, 164
- Arts-based research, 129
- Assessments, 289
- Association for Teacher Educators in Flanders, 10
- Augmented reality (AR), 164
- Authenticity, 103
- Authoritarian, 174
- Autobiographical narrative inquiries, 234–235
- Balanced approach, 244
- Behaviorism Learning Theory, 286
- Beliefs, 291
- Belonging, 98
- Best practices, 300
- Best-loved self
 - amalgams of experience, 235–240
 - consummatory experience and dead spaces, 233–234
 - context of research-intensive universities, 234
 - excessive entitlement, 234
 - experience, education, and life, 232–233
 - identity and best-loved self, 233
 - literature review, 232–234
 - method, 234–235
- Bias, 217
- Biennial ISATT conference (2015), 25
- Big data, 160
- Biology, 49–50
 - teacher educator, 46
- Black, Asian and minority ethnic (BAME), 318
- Black African students, 50–51
- Black Lives Matter, 105–106
- BNA Act, 122
- British Educational Research Association, 200–201
- Broadening (tool of narrative inquiry), 235

- Burrowing (tool of narrative inquiry), 235 in musical narrative inquiry,
135–136
Butterfly under a pin, 98
- Canada on Stolen Land, 122
Canadian poverty, 101
Career development in teaching, vision for, 33–34
Castle Conference, 23–24
Classroom management and organization, 45
Co-composing digital narrative script,
131–132
Co-composing narrated storyboard,
132–133
Coaching concept, 65
Coercing teachers, 227–228
Cognitive Learning Theory, 286
Collaboration, 55, 287, 292
paradoxical management of collaboration about inclusive education
training, 269–271
Collaborative cultures, 185
Collaborative learning, 196–197
Collaborative mentoring
(Co-mentoring), 194, 196–197
among teachers in England, UK, 198–199
analysis, 200–201
applications of, 198–200 factors facilitating positive impacts, 204–206
findings, 201–206
mentoring types, 195–196
methods, 200–201
model, 196–198
outcomes associated with co-mentoring applications, 201–204
program, 202–203
School–University peer partnership in Florida, US, 199–200 theory, 197
Collaborative mentorship, 197
Colonial curriculum, 39–40
Colonial narratives, 123–124
Colour of Poverty (COP), 101
Committee process, 251
Communal ethics, 143–144
Communities–community stories,
93–94
Comparative approaches, 277,
281–282
Comparative cross-national research in teaching and teacher education, 283–285
Comparative education, 281–282
research, 301
Comparative framing, 277–279, 283, 285 comparative cross-national research in teaching and teacher education, 283–285
cross-national research, 292–294
need for international
collaboration, 287
ontologies, 286–288, 292
Comparative studies, 277–278, 285
Comparative teacher education, 294
Compassion-based coaching, 197–198
Compassionate mentoring, 207
Complex systems, 162
Concave hall of mirrors, teacher education in, 75–76
Conceptions of teacher education, 164
Confucianism, 131–132
Connectivism Learning Theory, 286
Consistency, 66
Constructivism, 159
Constructivism Learning Theory, 286
Constructivism theory, 161
Constructivist approach, 163–164
Content knowledge, 41
Context sensitivity, 282
Contours of systematic qualitative approach, 266–268
Core practice approach, 152

- Council of Higher Education (CHE), 39–40
- Counsel Group Academic Teacher Education and Professionalization (CULOV), 10
- Covid-19, 155–157 pandemic, 152, 289–290
virus, 199
- Creativity, 291
- Criminal justice system, 318–319
- Critical analysis, 91
- Critical dialogue, 98
- Critical stances, 102–103
in narrative inquirers, 102
- Critical theory, 91
- Critical transformative approach, 152
- Criticality, 92, 104
- Cross-case studies, 268–269
- Cross-national attraction, 299–300
- Cross-national collaborations, 277
- Cross-national research, 292–294
collaboration, 292
contextualization and sensitivity, 293–294 disciplinary and methodological approach, 293
ontological basis, 292
- Cross-national studies, 283
- Cross-regional collaborations, 277
- Cultural friction
culturally responsive mentoring revisited in context of, 179
mentoring in contexts of, 178
- Culturally embedded interpretation, 178
- Culturally related dilemmas, 174
delving into nature of, 175
- Culturally responsive mentoring revisited in context of political and cultural friction, 179
- Culturally sustaining pedagogy theories, 226
- Curriculum, 38–39, 43, 288–289
construct of PCK, 40–41 development programs, 179
four knowledge domains and reflections on decolonizing curriculum, 43–51
knowledge, 41
modified PCK model, 42
understanding call for decolonizing South African higher education curriculum, 39–40
- Data analysis, 173–174
- Data collection, 258
- Data sources, 258
- Dead spaces, 233–234
- Decision-making process of educational goals, 38–39
- Decolonization, 39–40, 119 of curriculum, 39–40, 50
education, 118–119
knowledge domains and reflections on decolonizing curriculum, 43–51
understanding call for decolonizing South African higher education curriculum, 39–40
- Denicolo, Pam, 17
- Department for Education (DfE), 303–304, 318
- Department of Teacher Education, 10 at Ghent University, 9–10
- Dewey's conception of experience, 81–82
- Deweyan conception of knowledge, 92–93
- Didactic instructional methods, 163
- Digital narrative inquiry, 129, 135, 139
co-composing digital narrative script, 131–132
co-composing narrated storyboard, 132–133
digitally restoried wounded healer narrative, 133–135
experience, 131

- into Kadeem's lived experience, 130–135
 - revisiting field texts, 131
- Digital narrative script,
 - co-composing, 131–132
- Digital networked platforms, 160
- Digital restorying of wounded healer
 - story, 130–138
 - digital narrative inquiry into
 - Kadeem's lived experience, 130–135
- Digital story script, 132
- Digital storytelling production
 - process, 133
- Digital technology, 289–290
 - course, 70
 - self-directed learning for, 68–70
- Digitally restoried wounded healer
 - narrative, 133–135
- Dilemmas, 172–174
 - management strategies of moral
 - dilemmas as related to
 - nature of, 177–178
- Disciplinary school exclusion, 278–279, 318–319
- Discourse, 173–174
- Discursive approach, 249
- Disillusioning moments, 225
- Diversity, 291
 - in ITE programs, 317–318
- Doctoral education, 244
- Doctoral supervision, 244
 - contextualizing excessive faculty
 - entitlement in doctoral
 - supervision, 245–248
 - field, 252
 - key understandings, 251–252
 - supervision in thesis monitoring
 - committee, context of
 - study, 248–251
- Doctoral-supervisor dual relationship, 248
- Dominant paradigms and
 - implications
 - for education, 160–163
 - for practicum mentoring, 164–166
 - for teacher education, 163–164
- Druze mentors, 175–176
- Durham District School Board
 - Positive Youth
 - Development Strategy, 106
- Early Career Framework (ECF), 304
- Edtech space, 68
- Education, 92–93, 310–311, 315–316
 - behaviors and words make people
 - disrespected or powerless in
 - education and training
 - processes, 268–269
 - constructing history of paradigm
 - shifts in, 158–159
 - dominant paradigms and
 - implications for, 160–163
 - geography of, 322
 - literature on paradigm shifts in,
 - 156–158
 - moral dilemmas in, 172
 - policies, 299–300
 - systems, 194
- Education Endowment Foundation
 - (EEF), 305, 310–311
- Education Foundation, The, 5–6
- Educational borrowing, 301
- Educational discourse, 256
- Educational Healthcare (EHC), 320–321
- Educational practice, management of
 - moral dilemmas in,
 - 172–173
- Educative experiences, 232–233
- Effective mentorship guidance, 151
- Effective teaching, 227
- Elusive single-handed
 - decision-making, 173–174, 176
- Embedded co-mentoring, 197
- Emergence theory, 163–164
- Emotional expectations, 247
- England, influences on teacher
 - education policy in,
 - 303–305
- Ethical protocols, 201

- Ethical relationality, 112
- Ethics, 266–267
- Ethnographic approach, 249
- Euro-Western knowledge system, 119
- Eurocentric “spices”, 41
- Eurocentric curriculum, 39–40
- Evidence, 305
 - borrowing, 300–301, 307, 311
 - evidence-based policy making, 311
- Excessive entitlement, 217, 271
 - amalgams of experience, 235–240
 - consummatory experience and dead spaces, 233–234
 - context of research-intensive universities, 234
 - in education and training, 263–264
 - excessive entitlement, 234
 - experience, education, and life, 232–233
 - identity and best-loved self, 233
 - literature review, 232–234
 - method, 234–235
 - from perspective of inclusive educational transformation, 264–266
 - in teacher education, 257
- Excessive faculty entitlement in doctoral supervision, contextualizing, 245–248
- supervisory relationships, 246–248
- Excessive teacher entitlement, 215–216, 255
 - burning question, 224
 - excessive entitled attitude echoing excessive teacher entitled attitude, 225–226
 - journeying inward and backward to go forward, 224–227
 - liberating power of theory and theoretical thinking, 226–227
 - method, 223–224
 - new opening, 225
 - story begets story, 224
 - teacher resistance to change, 222
 - theoretical orientation, 223
 - unearthing causal dynamic basis of my entitled attitude, 225
- Excessive teacher/faculty entitlement, 215, 217–218
- Excluded Lives, 316–317, 322
- Exclusion in United Kingdom, context of, 318–321
- Executive Committee (EC), 17
- Experience, 92–93
 - amalgams of, 235–240
 - and story, 93
- Experiential Learning Theory, 286
- Expert teachers, 25
- Facebook, 160
- Faculty, The, 187
- Faculty of Education, 182, 186–190
- Faculty staff, 189–190
- Faculty’s vision for induction, 186–187
- FaSMEd project, 289
- #FeesMustFall (movement), 38
- Field-based narrative inquiries, 234–235
- First-order teaching, 30–31
- FIRSTMATH study, 289
- Fixed period exclusion, 319
- Flemish Interuniversity, 9
- Fluidity, 144
- Follow me mentoring, 69
- Fourth industrial revolutions (4IR), 159
- Gamification, 164
- Gardner’s theory of multiple intelligences, 159
- Gene concept, 25–26
- General pedagogical knowledge, 41–42, 45, 50
- Generative restorying processes, 143
- Generativity, 138
- Genetics concepts, 44–45
- Gifted and talented school plotline (GT school plotline), 99–100

- Global Education Reform
 Management (GERM),
 299–300
Google Meet© platform, 56
- Hall of concave mirrors
 maker pedagogy, 70–72
 modeling teaching by returning to school classroom, 72–74
 modeling teaching by sharing my self-study, 74–75
 parallels between practice and
 practicum, 64–68
 self-directed learning for digital technology, 68–70
 teacher education in concave hall of mirrors, 75–76
 transforming ourselves and practices, 68–75
- Hall of mirrors, 65–66, 68
 approach, 67
 model of learning, 66
 reflective practicum, 66
- Harvard Business Review*, The, 234
- HE curriculum, 39–40
- Head teacher co-mentors, 203
- HEI, 39–40
- Her Majesty's Inspectors (HMI), 164–165
- Home international comparisons, 321
- Human experiences, 232–233
- Human inquiry, 129
- Humanism Learning Theory, 286
- “I-You” interactions, 143–144
- “I-You” relationships, 143–144
- Ideal types, 195
- Identity and best-loved self, 233
 traps, 135–136
- In-service mentoring, 173
- Inclusion, 316
 in education, 315–316
 in ITE programs, 317–318
- Inclusive education, 265–266, 315–316
 excessive entitlement mean from perspective of inclusive educational transformation, 264–266
 paradoxical management of collaboration about
 inclusive education
 training, 269–271
- Inclusive learning spaces, 223
- Inclusive pedagogy, 316
- Inclusive professionalism, 218
- Inclusive transformation of professional educational practices
 conceptual reflections, 264–266 entitled position causes difficulties for administrative staff, 270–271
 methods, 266–268
 paradoxical management of collaboration about
 inclusive education
 training, 269–271
 two cross-case studies, 268–269
- Indigenous epistemologies, 118–119
- Indigenous knowledge systems, 43
- Indigenous peoples, 124–125
- Indigenous research, 115
- Indigenous research methodologies
 (IRM), 119
- Induction
 curriculum, 187
 faculty's vision for, 186–187
 important components of, 189–190
 mentoring during, 188–190
 program, 185
- Industrial age, 159, 161
- Industrial revolutions, 159
- Influences
 power of, 307–310
 on teacher education policy in England, 303–305
- Information age, 159–160
- Infrastructure age, 160
- Inheritance concept, 48–49

- Initial teacher education (ITE), 182, 184, 315–316
context of exclusion in United Kingdom, 318–321
inclusion and diversity in ITE
programs, 317–318
key understandings, 323–325
research methods, 321–323
- Initial Teacher Training (ITT), 303–304
core content framework, 304
market review, 304
- Inquirers, 87
- Instagram, 160
- Institutional programs, 153
- Interculturality and sensitivity, 141
- Interim texts, 86–87
- International collaboration, need for, 287
- International inquiry, 92
- Internet of things (IOT), 160
- Interpersonal ethics, 139–141
interculturality and sensitivity, 141
research team as relational response community, 140–141
- ISATT, 3–4, 10–11, 13–14, 54–55, 82 community, 23, 83
EC, 17 organization, 6 power of narrative inquiry in exploring teaching and teacher education in work of, 82–83
- ISATT Conference (2003), 19
- ISATT conference (2007), 17
- Israel, mentoring in, 173
- Israeli educational system, 173
- Israeli society, 179
- Jewish mentors, 175
- Joint experimentation model, 69
- Journal of Curriculum Studies*, 3
- Kadeem’s “corporal punishment”
thread, 132
- Kadeem’s digital narrative inquiry,
134–135
- Kadeem’s lived experience
digital narrative inquiry into, 130–135
musical narrative inquiry into,
135–138
- Knowledge, 41, 290
- Knowledge domains and reflections on decolonizing
curriculum, 43–51
general pedagogical knowledge, 45–50
knowledge of context, 43
knowledge of students, 43–45
knowledge of subject matter/content, 50–51
- Knowledge exchange, 4
- Knowledge of context, 42–43
- Knowledge of learners, 41
- Knowledge of students, 42–43, 45
- Knowledge of subject matter, 42
- Knowledge of subject matter/content, 50–51
- Kruger National Park in South Africa, 18
- Leadership program, 31
- Learning, 164
approach, 152
gap, 224
of teaching, 152
- Learning Opportunities Grant (LOG), 101–102
- LinkedIn, 160
- Literacy, 98
narratives, 97–98
- Lived space (pillar of teacher
education), 302–303,
305–306
- Machine learning age, 160
- Maker Movement, 70
- Maker pedagogy, 70–72
close-up view, 71
distant view, 71–72

- Maker pedagogy lab (MPL), 70–71
 Malta, 185
 induction in, 185–186
 Maltese schools, 182, 190
 Management strategies of moral
 dilemmas, 175–177
 as related to nature of dilemmas,
 177–178
 Market Review, 304
 Massively Open Online Courses
 (MOOCs), 68
 Master in Teaching and Learning
 (MTL), 183
 Master of Education, 5–6
 Me Too movement, 105–106
 Mentor-mentee relationship, 151
 Mentoring, 69, 151, 194
 analysis, 173–174
 context, 173
 in contexts of cultural and political friction, 178
 culturally responsive mentoring revisited in context of political and cultural friction, 179
 data collection, 173
 findings, 174–178
 important components of induction program, 189–190
 during induction, 188–190
 management of moral dilemmas in educational practice, 172–173
 mentoring in Israel, 173
 method, 173–174
 moral dilemmas in education, 172
 in multicultural context, 172 nature of mentors' moral
 dilemmas, 174–175
 participants, 173
 politically related dilemmas, 175–177
 program, 198–199
 relationships, 198–199
 as supervision, 195–196
 theoretical positioning, 172–173
 Mentors, 151
 Ad Hoc working habits, 174
 authoritarian, nondialogical workplace, 174
 avoidance, 176
 culturally related dilemmas, 174 delving into nature of culturally related dilemmas, 175
 dilemmas, 173
 management of authoritarian, 178
 management strategies, 176
 moral dilemmas, 174–175
 patriarchal norms of behavior,
 174–175
 Metaphorical three-dimensional narrative inquiry space, 131
 Microaggressions, 239
 Ministry for Education, 182
 Miseducative experiences, 232–233
 Misodzi nuts, 47–48
 Modeling teaching
 close-up view, 73, 75
 distant view, 73–75
 by returning to school classroom, 72–74
 by sharing my self-study, 74–75
 Modified PCK model, 42
 Monitoring committee experience,
 249–251
 Moral dilemmas, 173
 in education, 172
 management of moral dilemmas in
 educational practice, 172–173
 management strategies of, 175–177
 as related to nature of dilemmas,
 management strategies of,
 177–178
 Multicultural context, mentoring in,
 172
 Multiple-level co-mentoring, 206
 Music, 130
 Musical narrative inquiry (see also Digital narrative inquiry), 136–137, 139

- broadening in, 135
 - burrowing in musical narrative inquiry, 135–136
 - into Kadeem’s lived experience, 135–138
 - musically restoried wounded healer narrative, 137–138
- Musical restorying of wounded healer story, 130–138
 - musical narrative inquiry into Kadeem’s lived experience, 135–138
- Musically restoried wounded healer narrative, 137–138
- Narrated storyboard, co-composing, 132–133
- Narrative accounts, 86–87
- Narrative authority, 102–103
- Narrative inquirers, 130–131
- Narrative inquiry, 95–96, 116, 128–129, 138, 223–224, 234–235
 - as art-space method, positioning, 129–130
 - boundaries and borderlands, 94–95
 - broadening, 235
 - burrowing, 235
 - critical, 97–106
 - experience, education, and life, 92–93
 - experience and story, 93
 - historical and contemporary data, 99–102
 - interim texts, research texts, and narrative accounts, 86–87
 - narrative beginnings, 83–85
 - new knowledge, 105–106
 - potential and power of, 82–83
 - power of in exploring teaching and teacher education in work of ISATT, 82–83
 - professional knowledge landscape, 93–94
 - research frameworks, 97–98
 - research method, 95–97
 - research representations, 97
 - research tools, 96
 - sources of evidence, 96–97
 - storying-and-restorying, 235
 - themes, 105
 - theoretical framework, 92–95
 - as third enlightenment, 81–82
 - three-dimensional narrative space, 87–88
 - titles and topics, 97
 - tools of, 83
 - use of participants’ voices, 102–104
 - walking alongside, 85
- Narrative Knowing in the Human Sciences*, 81–82
- Narrative methodology, 264
- National Center for Children of Poverty (NCCOP), 101
- National network of doctoral schools, 249
- National Professional Qualifications (NPQs), 304
- NEET, 324–325
- Nehiyaw concept, 112
- Newly Qualified Teachers (NQTs), 182, 185–189
 - faculty’s vision for induction, 186–187
 - initial years of teacher’s career, 183–186
 - in Malta, 185–186
 - mentoring during induction, 188–190
- Niagara Falls, 121
- Niagara region, 121
- Non-Indigenous peoples, 124–125
- Nondialogical workplace, 174
- Northern Ireland Scotland (NI Scotland), 319
- Nuts, 47
- Nyimo (round nuts), 47
- Olson, John (cofounders of ISATT), 3–4
- Online doctoral supervision, 247–248

- Online learning, 289–290
- ONSIDE co-mentors, 199
- ONSIDE mentoring framework, 198–199
- ONSIDE Peer Mentoring, 203
- Ontologies, 286–288, 292
 - importance of alignment, 287
 - institutions, 288
 - instructional materials and resources, 288–290
 - need for theory, 286–287
 - policies, 288
 - professionalism in teaching and teacher education, 290–292
- Opportunities to learn, 290
- Oppression, 257
- Optimal management strategy, 176
- Paradigm shifts in education, 156
 - ages or eras, 159–160
 - constructing history of paradigm shifts in education, 158–159
 - dominant paradigms and implications for education, 160–163
 - dominant paradigms and implications for practicum mentoring, 164–166
 - dominant paradigms and implications for teacher education, 163–164
 - literature on paradigm shifts in education, 156–158
- Paradoxical management of collaboration about inclusive education training, 269–271
- Parents–parent stories, 93–94
- Partnership Support Group (PSG), 199
- Pedagogical Content Knowledge (PCK), 40–41
 - construct of, 40–41
- Pedagogical stance, 98
- Pedagogy, 291
 - of teacher education, 34
- Permanent exclusion, 319
- Personal construct psychology (PCP), 13
- Personal growth approach, 152
- Physical education teacher education (PETE), 57–59
 - analytical statements and theoretical amalgamation, 60–61
 - colleagues’ comments, 58–60
 - Ewerton, 59–60
 - Willian, 58–59
 - critical situations about social (in) justice, 57–58
 - methodological choices, 55–56
 - practicum, 57
- “Pick ‘n’ mix” approach, 301
- Policy borrowing, 278, 299–302, 305
- Policy development in teacher education, 300–301
- Policy formation, 300
- Policy reach through evidence borrowing, ratcheting up of, 310–311
- Policymakers, 302
- Political Economies of School Exclusion Across UK project, The, 316
- Political friction
 - culturally responsive mentoring revisited in context of, 179
 - mentoring in contexts of, 178
- Politically related dilemmas, 175–177
 - management strategies of moral dilemmas, 175–177
 - management strategies of moral dilemmas as related to nature of dilemmas, 177–178
- Pope, Emerita Maureen, 13
- Pope, Maureen, 17
- Postgraduate Certificate in Educational Mentoring, 188
- Power of theory, liberating, 226–227
- Practical knowledge in students of teaching, 32–33
- Practice, 152

- , parallels between practicum and, 64–68
- teaching, 64–65
- Practicum, parallels between practice and, 64–68
- Practicum mentor, 165–166
- Practicum mentoring, 165
 - dominant paradigms and implications for, 164–166
- Predict–Observe–Explain activity, 67
- Principle of economy, 133
- Professional development, 291
- Professional knowledge landscape, 93–94
- Professional learning, 33–34
 - scholars of teaching and learning about teaching, 33–34
- Professional learning and development (PLD), 195–196
- Professional learning communities (PLCs), 33, 197
- Professional teachers, 256
- Professionalism in teaching and teacher education, 290–292
- Professor–professor story, 236–238
 - Act 1, 236–237
 - Act 2, 237
 - Act 3, 238
- Professors–graduate students story, 235–236
- Program for International Student Assessment (PISA), 225–226
- Psychology and Educational Sciences, 9
- Quality Assurance Department, 185
- Quality in teacher education, 33–34
- Radical constructivism, 163–164
 - Rahma* concept, 112
- Reality shock, 184
- Reflection-in-action, 64–65
- Reflective practicum, 66
- Reflective Practitioner, The*, 65
- Reform–reform stories, 93–94
- Relational response community,
 - research team as, 140–141
- Relative space (pillar of teacher education), 302–303, 306–307
- Renaissance Academy, 100
- Representational space (pillar of teacher education), 302–303, 307, 310
- Research, 183
 - context of research-intensive universities, 234
 - counterstory methods, 127–128
 - frameworks, 97–98
 - team as relational response community, 140–141
 - texts, 86–87
 - tools, 96
- Research Ethics and Integrity Committee, 200–201
- Reserved matters, 319
- Restorying, 136–137, 238, 240
- Reverse mentoring, 198–199
- Royal Bank Endowed Mathematics, 3
- Royal Proclamation, The (1763), 122–123
- Scholars of teaching and learning
 - about teaching, 33–34
- Scholarship in teacher education, 34
- School Centered Initial Teacher Training (SCITT), 306–307
- School classroom, modeling teaching
 - by returning to, 72–74
- School exclusion, 321, 325–326
- School Leadership Team, 186, 189–190
- School participants, 199–200
- School poverty, 104
- School reform movement, 93–94
- Schooling, 282
- School–University peer partnership in Florida, US, 199–200

- Science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics
(STEAM), 291
- Science education scholars, 44
- Scientific knowledge, 265–266
- Scotland temporary exclusions, 319
- Second industrial revolutions (2IR), 159
- Second-order teaching, 30–31
- Self-directed learning for digital technology, 68–70
close-up view, 69
distant view, 69–70
- Self-study, 23, 55
legitimacy of, 24
method, 54–55
methodology, 67–68
modeling teaching by sharing my,
74–75
researchers, 24–25
school, 223
- Self-Study of Teacher Education group, 72–73
- Self-Study of Teacher Education
Practices (S-STEP), 23–25, 39, 257
- Self-study of teaching historical roots, 23–25
self-studies' contributions, 25–26 and teacher education practices, 67–68
transforming practice through,
23–25
- Self-understanding for understanding and supporting other, 223
- Self-reflectivity, 223
- Self-study of experience conceptual framework, 256–257
findings, 258
methods, 257–258
reading teacher, 258–259
teacher educator, 259–260
- Semi-structured in-depth interviews, 173
- Sense making process, 140
- Single-handed decision making, 173–174, 176
- Social, emotional and mental health (SEMH), 323–325
- Social (in)justice
critical situations about, 57–58
Luciana, 57–58
Luiz, 57
- Social constructivism, 163–164
- Social justice, 54
- Society–society stories, 93–94
- South African Higher Education
(South African HE), 39
understanding call for decolonizing
South African higher education curriculum,
39–40
- Spatial theory, 278, 302–303
- Special Interest Group (SIG), 23–24
- Special needs and disabilities (SEND), 316, 324
- Spiritual dimensions in stories
Canada on stolen land, 122
imagining forward, 123–125 land acknowledgments really acknowledge, 122
Lynne, 120–121
Muna, 117–118
Patsy, 121–123
in relation, 112–113
Stavros, 118–120
Trudy, 113–117
Wampum, 122–123
- STEM, 235–236, 239
- Stories of experience, 97
- Stories of poverty–Poverty stories*, 94–95, 97
- Story, experience and, 93
- Storying, 136–137
- Storying-and-restorying (tool of narrative inquiry), 235
- Student of teaching, 32–33
- Student teachers, 259–260
- Supervision in thesis monitoring committee
context of study, 248–251

- monitoring committee experience, 249–251
- newly established social practice, 248–249
- research method, 249
- Supervisory relationships, 246–248
- Systematic qualitative approach, contours of, 266–268

- Teach for America model, 25, 31
- Teacher agency, 256–257
- Teacher and Teaching*, 13–14
- Teacher candidates, 66
- Teacher education, 30–31, 164–165, 223, 277, 281–284, 299–300, 302–303
 - as apprenticeship training model, constructing, 31
 - comparative cross-national research in, 283–285
 - in concave hall of mirrors, 75–76
 - cross-national research, 292–294
 - dominant paradigms and implications for, 163–164
 - influences on teacher education policy in England, 303–305
 - lived space, 302–303, 305–306
 - ontologies, 286–287
 - policy borrowing, 301–302
 - processes and programs, 282–283
 - programs, 9, 33, 75, 165
 - ratcheting up of policy reach through evidence borrowing, 310–311
 - relative space, 302–303, 306–307
 - representational space, 302–303, 307, 310
 - spatial theory, 302–303
- Teacher Education or Lifelong learning education, 152
- Teacher educator, 30–31, 196–197, 259–260, 291–292
 - constructing teacher education as apprenticeship training model, 31
 - professional learning, 33–34
 - student of teaching, 32–33
- Teacher excessive entitlement in teacher education concept, 260
- Teacher induction, 185
- Teacher inquiry, 164
- Teacher knowledge, 42
- Teacher mentors, 188–189
- Teacher resistance to change, 222
- Teacher thinking, 14–15
- “Teacher’s Professional Profile”, 9–10
- Teachers, 187, 194, 255
- Teachers as practitioners, 222
- Teachers in England, UK, co-mentoring among, 198–199
- Teachers thinking, 277
- Teachers’ agency, 256–257
- Teachers’ aversion to theory, 224
- Teachers’ disinclination, 222
- Teachforall (TF), 25, 31
- Teaching, 182, 277, 283–284, 317–318
 - approaches, 45
 - comparative cross-national research in, 283–285
 - cross-national research, 292–294
 - methods, 38–40
 - modeling, 75
 - ontologies, 286–287
 - scholars of teaching and learning about, 33–34
 - student of, 32–33
 - vision for career development in, 33–34
- Teaching and Learning International Survey (TALIS), 287
- Teaching and Learning with ICT*, 68
- Team teaching, 260
- “Technical-rational” approach, 30
- TEDS-M comparative cross-national study, 287, 289–290
- Texas poverty, 100–101
- Theoretical amalgamation, analytical statements and, 60–61
- Theoretical thinking, 223, 227–228
 - liberating, 226–227

- Theory of collaborative mentorship, 196
- There Is No Alternative rhetoric (TINA rhetoric), 308
- Thesis Monitoring Committees (TMC), 248
 - supervision in thesis monitoring committee, context of study, 248–251
- Third industrial revolutions (3IR), 159
- Third-generation coaching, 197–198
- Thought-provoking analogy, 41
- Three-dimensional narrative space, 87–88
- Tissues, 49–50
- Transformative Learning, 286
- Transformativity, 138–139
- Traveling policy, 299–300
- TribalCrit, 121
- Twitter, 160
- Two Row Wampum Belt (1764), 122–124
- Two Wampum Belt (1764), 123
- U.S. poverty, 101
- Ubuntu, 49
- United Kingdom (UK), 316
 - context of exclusion in, 318–321
 - research and development programs, 200
- University of Reading, 14
- Video conference, 250
- Virtual reality (VR), 164
- Vygotsky's learning theory, 226–227
- Wahkôhtowin concept, 112
- Wampum, 122–123
 - Two Row Wampum Belt of 1764, 122–123
- WERA International Research Network, 294
- Western Collisions, 122–123
- Western knowledge, 39–40
- WhatsApp*© messages, 57–58
- Whole Language approach, 258–259
- Wholeness, 113
- Workplace norms, 174
- Wounded healer story
 - aesthetic ethics, 141–143
 - communal ethics, 143–144
 - digital and musical restorying of wounded healer story, 130–138
 - distilled insights, 138–144
 - generativity, 138
 - interpersonal ethics, 139–141
 - positioning narrative inquiry as art-space method, 129–130
 - transformativity, 138–139
- Zone of proximal development (ZPD), 227
- Zoom, 160