

INDEX

- Advertising, 28
  embed, 320, 329–330
- Aesthetic(s), 66, 73, 154 in designing tourism experiences, 154 distance, 155
  in experience design, 159–160 factors, 278
  features atmospherics, 155–156 markers, 156
  multisensory atmospherics, 156–157
  pleasure, 155
  residents as element of atmospherics, 157–159
- Affective process theory, 168
- Affective qualities, 56
- Affective tonalities, 7, 110–111
- Agrinauts, 254
- Alpentöne, 199
- Alpine regions, 6, 65
  architectural governance in, 67–68
- Ambient/ambiance, 7, 16, 37, 110, 278 colour, 229
  factors, 226
- Architectural governance, 6, 190, 213
  in Alpine regions, 67–68
- Architectural tourism, 64
- Arousing environments, 226
- Art geography, 184
- Art landscape, 184
- Artificial reefs, 9, 246, 247–249
  atmospheres, 249–253
  experimenting with atmospheric turns in diving, 253–255 Scuba diving, 247 stages in development, 251
- Artistic approaches, 103
- Atmosphere(s), 2–7, 22–24, 28, 31–32, 39–40, 46, 93–96, 104, 109–110, 224–225 of aesthetic stimulation, 95–96 to atmospherics, 46–47
  concept and importance of, 225–226 creation in field of tension between destination and living space, 212–213 demand and marketing perspective, 47–50 describing, 57–60 inner and outer world, 24–25 management, 120
  metrics, 39
  naming and typologising, 40–42 of otherness, 305–306
  perceiving, 32–38
  pervasiveness, 52 place atmosphere model, 54–57 from point of view of supplier and brand, 50–52 space, place and time, 52–54 between subject and object, 25–26
  in tourism, 166
  in tourism, hospitality and events, 7–11 of widening, 95
- Atmospheric dimension of communication, 81–84
  ambiguity, 85–86
  binary oppositions to polarity, 84–85 as catalyst for creating deeper human understanding, 83 communication, tourism and culture, 78
  de-Westernisation, 80–81
  metaphors, 86–87
  rise of Asia and China, 78–80

- Atmospheric effects, 108–109
   attention, 111–112
   emotions and affective tonalities, 110–111 gesture, 112–113 for leisure and tourism, 113–115 possibilities for and limits to designing atmospheres, 115–116 stresses, 109
- Atmospheric turn, 2, 4–5, 15–16, 27, 121
   ontological triangle, 16–21 opportunities and risks for, 28 philosophical classification, 20–27 in tourism product development, 140–141
- Atmospheric(s), 5, 36, 42, 46–48, 226, 260 apparition, 114–115
   design code of identification spaces, 185 elements, 224
   existence, 26 experience, 25
   gaze, 2–4
   interventions in tourism destinations, 144–147 as marketing tool, 226–229 perceiving destination as, 184–187 perception, 97
   quality, 23–24
   research, 28
   residents as element of, 157–159 in services, 225–229
   space, 82
   variables, 227
- Attention, 7, 111–112, 233, 235–236
- Aura, 16, 34
- Authenticity, 10, 261–262
   conceptual model and hypotheses, 262–264 construct operationalisation, 275 event, 260–261
   findings, 265
   hypothesis testing, 268–269 measurement model, 265–268
   methodology, 264–265
   perceptions, 260–261
   pursuit for, 66–67
- Beauty, 155–157
- Böhme's reflections, 33
- Brand, 120–124
   code, 125
   concepts spatially and atmospherically, 124–128 performance, 125
   personality, 179
   values, 125
- Brand space, 124, 128, 187
   atmosphere, 8
   code, image, shaping, positioning, 126 design management in, 134–135 destination as, 191 model, 126, 179–180, 182–183, 190 values and performance, 127 view, 182
- Building culture, 64 architectural governance in Alpine regions, 67–68 areas of coordination, 68, 72–74 means of coordination, 68–72 of regions, 67
   space optimisation and pursuit for authenticity, 66–67
- Building Information Modelling (BIM), 189–190
- Capricornia, 305 atmosphere of otherness, 305–306 foundations of Northern Australia's constructed 'otherness', 306–308
   Northern Australia, 303–305
   otherness in tourism context, 308–310 perceived 'otherness', 310–315
   tourism regions in Northern Australia, 304
- Climate, 37
   house, 72

- Colour(ed), 224–225, 228
  - lampshades, 232
  - lights, 232
  - perceptions, 98
  - for service atmospheres, 229–231
- Communication, 34, 78
  - competence, 84
- ConsultGoVisit
  - endorsement, 325
  - treatment, 322–323
- Contemporary architecture, 66
- Cultural/culture, 5–7, 78, 120
  - context, 80
  - identity, 80
  - socialisation, 80
  - turn, 2
- De-Westernisation, 80–81
- Dense Atmospheres, 38
- Design
  - combining and spatialising, 128–130
  - strategy, 130–134
  - turn, 140
- Destination design
  - atmospheric design to, 212–213
  - dialogue management as
    - prerequisite for, 213
- Destination development, 210
  - atmospheric design, 219
  - from atmospheric design to
    - destination design, 212–213
  - destination space development,
    - 211–212
  - findings, 214–218
  - living space development, 211
  - methodology, 213–214
  - participation of local population,
    - 210–211
  - perspectives on, 210
  - small towns, 218–219
- Destination space, 141, 179
  - atmosphere creation in field of
    - tension between living space
      - and, 212–213
  - development, 211–212
  - as product of subjectively perceived
    - design spaces, 212
- Destinations, 140, 169–170, 182, 249
  - aesthetic features, 155
  - brand management, 8
  - as brand space, 191
  - brand strategy, 187
  - developing, 187–192
  - management, 187
  - networks, 140
  - smell-scapes, 156
  - strategically connecting destinations
    - and, 183–184
- Digitalisation, 8
  - opportunities for brand space
    - and management,
      - 187–192
- Direct-response magazine
  - advertisements, 327
- Discourse-based approaches, 103
- Displayed emotions
  - of employees, 169
  - of family/friends, 169
  - of local people, 169
  - of other tourists, 169
- Divers, 249
- Diving, 247, 249
- Dramaturgy, 202
- ‘Dynamism’ factor, 229
- e-Atmospherics, 11, 38, 320. See also
  - Service atmospherics
    - findings, 325–328
    - future research, 329–330
    - hypotheses and literature,
      - 321–322
    - limitations, 329
    - method, 322–323
    - quality of dominant approach,
      - 320–321
    - sweepstakes test design, 324–325
    - treatment and control email
      - advertisements, 323–324
- Ecological integrity, 248
- Eichstaett town, 213–218
- Electroencephalogram (EEG), 228,
  - 233, 239
- Emotional contagion, 166–169
  - in tourism, 169–172

- Emotional/emotions, 7, 110–111, 230, 240
 cues, 169
 intimacy, 8 labour, 8
 in philosophy, 47 reactions, 56
 solidarity, 170
 solidarity, 8
 tone, 230
- Empathetic Sensorium, 86–87
- Empathy, 168
- Entwicklungsoffensive Region
 Altdorf project (ERA project), 198
- Environmental
 cues, 283
 dimensions, 278
 environmental-psychological models, 51 psychologists, 155
- Eurocentrism, 81
- European Travel Commission (ETC), 79
- Even queuing, 284
- Event(s), 282
 atmosphere in, 7–11
 authenticity, 260–261
 ontology, 18–19
- Exhibitions, 282
- Experience
 aesthetics in experience design, 159–160 orientation, 109 of positive correspondence, 115 of silence, 294–295
 society, 109
 space, 211
- Exploration, atmospheric, 99–104
- Eye Tracker, 9, 225, 228–229, 233
- Facial Recognition, 225, 229
- Feng shui* (Chinese art of designing space), 82
- Festival atmosphere, 10 functions, 278
- Festival's social atmosphere online, 278 festival format, 277–278 festivalscape in context of social media, 279–280 research setting and methods, 280–283 results, 283–286
- Festivalscape, 278
 in context of social media, 279–280
- Flow-based approach, 196–198
 Altdorf Case, Switzerland, 198 area development at railway station, 203–204 basic scheme, 201–202 connection between town centre and railway station, 204 new Cantonal railway station and new site development, 199 planning and deciding together, 201 redesign of town centre, 202–203 relative loss of importance, 199 results to date, 205 town centre traffic and congestions, 199–200 understanding own place, 200–201
- Fudo* (Air-and-earth), 27
- Galvanic Skin Response (GSR), 9, 225, 228–229, 233, 239
- Genius loci*
 atmospheric interventions in tourism destinations, 144–147 atmospheric turn in tourism product development, 140–141 illustrative examples, 147–148 place in creating unique tourism experiences, 141–144
- Gestalt theory, 214
- Great Barrier Reef, 246, 249
- Hospitality
 accommodations, 320
 atmosphere in, 7–11

- Identification
  - atmosphere of brand space, 181
  - definers, 127, 181
  - supporters, 127, 181
- Identification spaces, 180–181, 188
  - atmospheric design code of, 185
- Informants, 197, 295, 297
- Involvement, 261–262, 264
- Kimberley Region, 311
  - tourism in, 312
- Kyôto School of Philosophy, 27
- Lagoon of Lost Ships* (Cousteau), 253
- Leisure, 4
  - atmospheres for, 113–115
  - time, 109
- Lighting, 228
  - and mood in atmosphere, 232
  - for service atmospheres, 231–233
- Living space
  - atmosphere creation in field of
    - tension between destination space and, 212–213
  - development, 211
- Mood, 37, 121–122
- Moreton Bay Artificial Reef, 250
- Motion suggestions, 32, 53
- Multisensory atmospherics, 156–157
  - elements, 154
- Musical atmospheres, 24
- Narration, 97, 100
- Nausea*, 294
- Nemo's Garden Project, 254
- Neoplatonic thought, 18
- Neuromarketing tools, 9, 233
- New Phenomenology, 25, 28, 33
- Ningen* (Between-human-and-human), 27
- Noise, 292–294
  - harmful effects of, 293
  - ubiquity of, 10
- Normal spaces, 179–180
- Northern Australia, 303–304
  - tourism regions in, 304
- Noxia*, 294
- Ontological location of atmospheres, 20–22
- Ontological triangle, 16–17
  - comparison of ontologies, 17
  - event ontology, 18–19
  - situation ontology, 19–20
  - thing ontology, 16–18
- Otherness, 10
  - atmosphere of, 305–306
  - foundations of Northern Australia's constructing, 306–308
  - perceived, 310–315
  - in tourism context, 308–310
- Overtourism, 210
- People, 96–99
- Perceived 'otherness', 310–315
- Perceived atmosphere, 36–37, 50
- Perceived authenticity
  - in arts, 263
  - of core artistic product, 10
  - of venue, 10, 263–264
- Perceiving destination as atmospheric, 184–187
- Perceptions, 103, 141
  - of atmospheres, 35
- Personal
  - APF, 100, 104
  - atmosphere, 33
  - factor, 261
  - own-space, 122
- Personality, 120–124
  - of shops, 120
- Pharmakon*, 294
- Phase zero, 99–101
- Philosophical classification of
  - atmospheric turn, 20–27
- Photograph(ic), 101
  - gaze, 2
  - series, 103
- Physical evidence, 227–228

- Place, 46, 52–54 atmosphere model, 41, 53–59 in creating unique tourism experiences, 141–144
 development, 200–201
 of silence, 297
- Pleasure, Arousal, Dominance
 model (PAD model), 48, 225
- Potemkin village* effect, 204
- Predominant tourism intensity, 210
- Production aesthetics, 143, 146
- Qifen* (Kind of ambience), 81–82, 85–87
- Realism, 25–26
- Reception aesthetics, 143
- Reduction of chroma, 233
 of complexity, 57
- Religious tourism, 292
- Renewable energy, 254
- Residents as element of atmospherics, 157–159
- Sales-promoting atmosphere, 5
- Satisfaction, 263 perceived authenticity of venue on, 263–264
- Scenography, 7, 145
- Schmitz's atmospheric theory, 33
- Service
 atmospherics in, 225–229 business, 228
 design, 46–47
 quality perceptions of customers, 224
- Service atmospherics, 224–225. See also e-Atmospherics blue sea view, 233–234 case study examples, 233 colour for service atmospheres, 229–231
 concept and importance of atmosphere, 225–226
 emotions, 240
 facial expression recognition data combined with Eye Tracker data, 239
 hotel room with city and buildings view, 235
 Las Vegas Hotels View, 236 lighting for service atmospheres, 231–233
 restaurant with sea view, 237 scan path, 238
 scope and dimensions of, 226
- Servicescape, 224, 279
- Shipwrecks, 246
- Signs, 47, 226
- Silence, 10, 292–294 break, 298
 code of conduct, 297 data analysis, 296 data collection and sample, 295–296 empowering experience, 298–299 experiences of, 294–295
 findings, 296
 inner state of mind, 298
 luxurious travel experience, 299
 method, 295
 as moment of luxury, 292 place of silence, 297
- Skenographia*, 144
- Sketch-mapping, 102
- Social
 aspects of tourism atmosphere, 166–172
 contagion, 167
 evaluation, 229 identification and engagement, 279 service space model, 171
- Social media, 278, 284, 286
 festivalscape in context, 279–280
- Socialscape, 278–279
- Sociocultural dimension of atmospheres, 113–115
- Sound sense, 226
- Space, 4, 16, 24, 52–54, 179
 identification model, 126 of knowledge, 56
 optimisation, 66–67
 of possibility, 56

- Spatial atmosphere, 33, 60
- Spatial design, 119, 130–131
- Spatial development, 190
  - management of tourism destinations, 8
- Spatial turn, 2–3, 27, 52, 120
- Spatialisation
  - destination and brand, 179–182
  - of two-dimensional brand theory, 7
- Spatiality of atmospheres, 23–24
- Spiritual idealism, 20
- St Gallen Model for Destination Management (SGDM), 8, 178, 184, 188, 191–192, 196
  - identification fields of, 189
- Staging, 145
- Stimulus–Organism–Response model (S-O-R model), 36, 48, 171
- Strategic/strategy
  - combining and spatialising, 128–130
  - design, 130–134
  - orientations, 131
  - ‘W questions’, 131
- Subspaces, 183–184
- Sustainable destination management
  - developing destinations, 187–192
  - perceiving destination as atmospheric, 184–187
  - SGDM, 178
  - spatialising destination and brand, 179–182
  - strategically connecting destinations and subspaces, 183–184
- Symbols, 6, 47, 226
- Synaesthetic characters, 32, 53
- Taoist Yin-Yang philosophy, 84
- Theatre
  - constitutes, 260
  - events, 260
  - performances, 260
- Thing ontology, 16–18
- Three dimension (3D)
  - city models, 189
  - space, 82
  - of sustainable development, 181
- Topological Turn of Japanese philosophy, 27
- Tourism, 4, 64, 67, 78, 141, 211, 218, 225, 308, 320
  - atmosphere in, 7–11, 113–115
  - destinations, 8, 189, 308
  - development, 213
  - emotional contagion in, 169–172
  - in Kimberley Region, 312
  - otherness in, 308–310
  - research, 2
  - use of artificial reefs, 249
- Tourism product development, 7–8
  - atmospheric turn in, 140–141
- Tourist(s), 4, 8, 67, 166, 170
  - destination, 179
  - experiences, 9
  - gaze, 182, 202
  - spaces, 8
- Touristification, 97–98
- Transit atmosphere, 95
- Triadic thing ontology, 16, 18
- Ulber’s artistic-atmospheric study, 103
- Underwater
  - atmosphere, 250
  - cultural heritage, 246
- Unity, 183, 229
- Urban
  - atmospheres, 94
  - destinations, 210
  - environments, 211
- User engagement, 279–280, 283
- User-generated content (UGC), 323
- Vagueness of atmospheres, 94
- Visitor flows, 197, 200
  - visitor flow-oriented approach, 178
- Volksmusikfestival, 199
- Western philosophy, process ontologies of, 18–19
- World Tourism Organization (WTO), 79
- Zoo atmospheres, 102